City Lights screens 'Tomorrow' for annual Green Fair

Join City Lights Cinemas as it partners with the eighth annual Florence Green Fair to present the urgent and uplifting social and environmental documentary, "Tomorrow."

Screenings will be Thursday, May 4, at noon and 6 p.m.

For the past eight years, Siuslaw News and KCST Coast Radio have been bringing the latest, cutting edge techniques to make a realistic and sustainable difference in the world to the Florence community.

Along with a free community fair at the Florence Events Center, the new documentary "Tomorrow" will be screened at City Lights Cinemas.

"Tomorrow" is a film that offers optimistic solution, hope and a way forward in this vital and precarious moment in the planet's history.

The film shows how answers lie in a wide mobilization of the human race. Over the course of a century, dreams of progress have fundamentally changed the way we live and continues to inspire many developing countries.

Today, we have become aware of the drawbacks and limits of such development policy. Environmentalists, scientists and ecologists urge the need to focus efforts to change the way we go about realizing "The American Dream" before something irreversible happens to the planet.

"Tomorrow" sets out to showcase alternative and creative ways of viewing agriculture, economics, energy and education. It offers construction solutions to act on a local level to make a difference on a global level.

So far, no other documentary has gone down such an optimistic road.

"Tomorrow" marks the beginning of a movement seeking to encourage local communities around the world to change the way they live for the sake of the planet.

Tickets for "Tomorrow" are currently available at City Lights Cinemas or online at citylightscinemas.com.

Tickets are $9 for adults, $8 for seniors and students, and $7 for students.

Rotary Club of Florence to offer 2 education fellowships

The Rotary Club of Florence's Continuing Professional Education Fellowship program is offering two $2,000 fellowships to support local people who serve the local community.

The simple application is due by Friday, May 5, at 4 p.m.

Eight years after the Rotary Professional Education grant first began, more than a dozen local teachers and nonprofit professionals have received training and education.

Here are some of the results:

- A middle school science teacher attended a graduate-level course at Portland State University focused on engineering and design education.

- An elementary school teacher who was struggling to engage the highest and lowest achievers in her classroom used Rotary funding to attend a national conference about using tablets to manage differentiated learning.

This approach advocates the use of small workstations throughout a classroom where students can learn in different ways — using a computer or tablet, touching or interacting with objects, engaging in dis-ussion or pursuing individual study.

- A counselor received training to teach women and children how to deal with and prevent domestic abuse.

Anyone engaged in serving the community is eligible, and complete details about the program are available online.

To apply, visit [www.florence Rotary.org](http://www.florence Rotary.org), then select "Club Links" from the left menu, and select "Fellowship Grant."
