salon in Florence, where she worked. Many of her clients became fast friends and like family too. She always said she "flew by the seat of her pants, with her hair on fire!"

She loved to travel all over. She would drive across country with her dog, Rocky, and sometimes take a friend who could stand dog fur whirling around with the windows down. She loved to garden and would bring what she grew to share with everybody in the beauty shop.

She also loved to do pottery. She taught several classes, getting a kick out of roasting hot dogs over the flame of a Raku Firing. Linda enjoyed her "Course in Miracles." She always said, "I am not a body," and this is so very true as her spirit has moved on.

There are not enough words to express our loss for this awesome lady. Her six grandchildren, two remaining brothers, all her family and friends will truly miss her.

May her constant smile, positive energy, good nature, the teacher within her and her fun-loving personality always bring a smile to warm our hearts.
