During the Second Saturday Gallery Tour on June 10, from 3 to 5 p.m., at The Studios, 1458 First St., Artist Pamela Vosseller will be donating the proceeds from the sale of her art piece "Floral Whimsy" to Malakai's Bone Marrow Transplant fund.

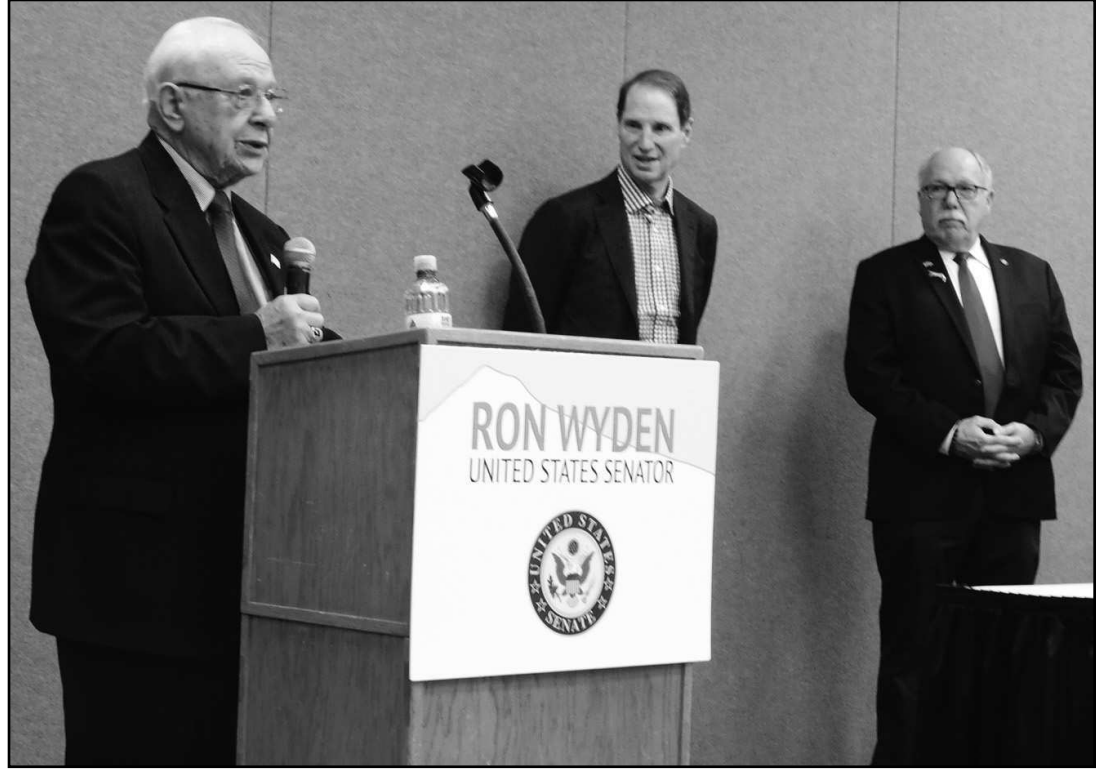

At a recent Town Hall meeting, U.S. Sen. Ron Wyden recognized Florence resident Steve Olienyk with the Oregon Governor's Outstanding Lifetime Volunteer Achievement Award.

Wyden noted Olienyk's military service in WWII, where he guarded the top war criminals in Japan including Hideki Tojo, Prime Minister of Japan during the Pearl Harbor attack.

Wyden also recognized Olienyk's many years of community service.

"Steve's philanthropic work has earned him the highest honor from our state," said Wyden. "He has had an extraordinary impact on those that have had a chance to work with him."

Some of Olienyk's volunteer projects include: Veteran's Memorial Park Commission, American Legion Commander, Heceta Water District Board, Kiwanis Club, Flag Program, Siuslaw Valley Fire and Rescue Board, outreach to schools, Advisory Committee for Lane County Sheriff,

In honor of his service, Wyden presented Olienyk with a flag flown over the U.S. Capital.

"Wow, I'm honored," Olienyk said. "I've known many fine veterans in Florence who've gone on to serve their communities and make a positive impact. They embody the idea of, 'Service before self.'

"By serving others we strengthen the fabric of our community and make this great country stronger."

'EXPLORE' NEW DISPLAY AT FLORENCE CHAMBER

The Florence Area Chamber of Commerce's Visitor Center, 290 Highway 101, features a different local artist each month. Its newest display of local artistry features the coastal photography of Jo Beaudreau, owner of BeauxArts Fine Art Materials in Florence. Included in the "Explore: Snippets of the Oregon Coast" show are scenic portraits of boats and bridges, nature's textures and some of the floral beauty of our area.

"If you haven't seen the changes in the Visitor Center yet, now is a great time to come by and see how we've repurposed the space and feature local artists' work," says executive director Bettina Hannigan. "Throughout June you'll see the works of local photographer and arts aficionado Jo Beaudreau, and see how we're greeting our out-of-area visitors and local residents to promote the Florence community."

Beaudreau says, "Florence is a happening place and the arts are strong here. By promoting the arts in our community, we can boost economic development for our region."

Her work has been displayed in shows and galleries across America.

She serves on the City of Florence Public Art Committee, does the Second Saturday Gallery Tour of more than 10 local galleries, serves on the Florence Events Center's Gallery Committee and is co-chair of the Siuslaw Vision 2025 Vision Keepers.

Beaudreau uses photography as the ways and means of exploring the plethora of emotions, objects and scenery.

Her educational background is in photography, which is her favorite form of expression. She earned a bachelor's of fine arts from San Jose State University.

"The arts are my interest, specifically, the visual arts. I've always been involved with creating my own art or helping others create theirs. I love all types of expression. Every day I am thrilled I can help people create through my shop's materials, my materials knowledge and other resources," Beaudreau says.

"With this remodel we are able to offer local artists to have a place to exhibit their work. Along with Jo's work right now, we also have Lakeshore Myrtlewood exhibiting in the lobby," adds Hannigan.

Each month the Chamber will feature two- and three-dimensional exhibits by local artists and galleries.
