

State Fire Marshall posts firework standards

The Office of State Fire Marshal, Tualatin Valley Fire Rescue, U.S. Bureau of Land Management, Oregon Department of Forestry, Clackamas Fire District #1, Portland Fire Rescue, Oregon Department of Veteran Affairs, Multnomah county animal services, the Oregon Humane Society, and Oregon fireworks wholesalers will provide information on legal fireworks in Oregon.

The information provided will clarify where fireworks may be used, education, and safety and enforcement efforts. Live fireworks demonstrations are scheduled.

June 23 opens the season for fireworks sales in Oregon. Legal fireworks may be purchased only from Oregon permitted fireworks retailers and stands.

To date the Office of State Fire Marshal has issued 722 retail fireworks permits, and 138 display permits. Oregon law forbids possession, use, or sale of fireworks that fly, explode, or travel more than six feet on the ground or 12 inches in the air, without a permit issued by the OSFM.

Bottle rockets, Roman candles, and firecrackers are ILLEGAL in Oregon.

All fireworks are prohibited on all Oregon beaches, in parks, and campgrounds. Illegal fireworks can be expensive.

Under Oregon law, illegal fireworks may be confiscated and offenders fined up to $500 per violation for possession of illegal fireworks and endangering life and property.

Offenders may also be arrested. Any fireworks causing damage, or misuse of fireworks carries a liability for the offender, who may be required to pay for resulting fire or other damage.

Parents are liable for fireworks-caused damage by their children. Costs may include assessed fines as well as the cost of suppressing fireworks-caused fires.

An evening with HAL 9000 and 'Space Odyssey'

City Lights Cinemas is will present the seminal science fiction classic "2001: A Space Odyssey."

This space epic covers everything from science, religion and humanity. To help the audience get the most from the screening, the film's most memorable character, HAL 9000, will be onstage talking about the making of the film, the current state of artificial intelligence and the evolution of simple computers to self-conscious beings.

The performance is on Sunday, June 25, at 3 p.m.

"2001: A Space Odyssey" was first announced in 1965 when the space race was in full steam as President John F. Kennedy set the nation's sites on the moon. If Hollywood was to go to space, it had to be as real as possible.

Stanley Kubrick partnered with the writer Arthur C. Clarke to craft a story that could withstand the march of progress. It was a process that involved NASA, IBM, TWA and more than 50 companies including hundreds of aeronautics specialists, astronomical artists and technicians.

From iPads to Alexa, Space-X to Skype, almost every important technological advancement in the last 50 years was inspired — either indirectly or directly — by Kubrick's film; while Kubrick used science as a blueprint to make the film, science used 2001 as a blueprint to make the world.

Before the film, HAL 9000 will talk about the complex issues surrounding it. Watch the masterpiece on the big screen — the way it was meant to be seen. Following the film, HAL will be available for a Q&A.

Tickets for 2001: A Space

Odyssey are currently available at City Lights Cinemas or online at citylightscinemas.com. Tickets are $12 for adults, $8 for members, and $5 for students.
