

SEAcost Entertainment to open ticket sales

On July 1, season tickets for the Seacoast Entertainment 2017-18 Coastal Concert Series become available at the Florence Event Center Box office, 715 Quince St.

Seacoast, a local nonprofit, has been bringing entertainment to Florence and the Oregon Coast since 1980.

This season's Coastal Concert Series includes a diverse array of performers to appeal to a wide audience. The season opens with Ballet with a Twist, a New York City ballet company performing its signature show "Cocktail Hour" on Oct. 26.

The Black Market Trust will perform its repertoire of acoustical music with influences from Frank Sinatra, the Beatles and the Beach Boys on Nov. 15. The New Year will see Quattrosound's return to Florence as the ensemble fuses classical, pop and jazz on Jan.

Quattrosound returns to Florence as part of the 2017-18 Coastal Concert Series.

17. Mandy Harvey, most recently seen on "America's Got Talent," will be on stage Feb. 21. The Newport Symphony Orchestra performs on March 23, with the three tenors knows as Genti scheduled for April 19.

The season will wrap up with the voices of the quartet Vivace on May 24.

"We're very excited about the lineup for our new season," said Karen Smales, vice-president of the Seacoast Board and its program director. "The feedback for our last season was so positive from our audiences, we really used that to energize our selections for the 2017-18 series.

"Along with exciting new talent, we're pleased to be able to respond to the requests of the community and bring Quattrosound to open the second part of our series in January."

Season ticket subscriptions are $160 for all seven shows in the series along with first choice on reserved seating for performances.

Single performance tickets are $32 per adult, $10 for those under 18 and go on sale for all shows Aug. 1.

More information on the Coastal Concert Series performers is available at www.seacoastea.org.

Fanny returns for 'It Shoulda Been Me!'

Florence's first drag queen, Jason Wood's Fanny Rugburn, laments the roles she lusts after and lost in "It Shoulda Been Me!" this Saturday, July 1, at Old Town Barbershop.

Fanny will be joined by Ana Khonda, played by Matthieu Korso, in several "wicked" renditions of songs from popular musical theater.

After all, she did it Broadway...

All of Fanny's performances are 18 and older only. The show begins at 8 p.m. and doors open at 7:30 p.m.

There is a $10 cover charge, cash only.

Bay Street Grille will also be serving food and adult beverages.

Fanny and Ana will be appearing in several shows this summer, including July 15's "Drag Me to Neverland," a family-friendly show at Class Act Theatre featuring songs about second stars, dreaming and princesses. But remember, Fanny is the queen.

Basket Day at OCHS Thrift Store this weekend

Everything old is new again at the Oregon Coast Humane Society (OCHS) Thrift Store on Bay Street.

Basket Day, June 30 and July 1, kicks off great savings options and a whole new look that started with the hiring of Florence artist-retailer marketer Kat Cunningham as the new manager.

The yellow building has been temporarily closed and the gray corner building has been redeveloped throughout and will now be called "Paws Boutique."

This new boutique look, using a store-within-a-store concept, offers a unique destination shopping experience.

"We offer a range of great prices with a deliberate lifestyle look in a fun and friendly atmosphere," said Cunningham. "It's called 'thematic retail marketing.' The merchandise is now staged to match how you live, and the fun is that each mini-store will change constantly."

The volunteer team is enjoying the challenge of creating new scenarios for each store theme. The most important thing is that all the donations and money goes to saving and supporting the lives of cats and dogs.

The team is looking for people who want a comfortable, worthwhile volunteer experience.
