CITY SEEKS PUBLIC INPUT ON TAKE-OUT CONTAINERS

The City of Florence's Environmental Management Advisory Committee (EMAC) is surveying consumers and businesses in Florence about their use and opinions of expanded polystyrene foam food and beverage containers. The Florence community will have an opportunity to meet with EMAC at a Public Forum to be held at City Hall on Monday, July 17, at 6:30 p.m., at Florence City Hall.

verbal input. The primary motivation is to reduce foam litter in and around the Florence area, especially in lakes, creeks and along ocean beaches. Other potential benefits include reducing the costs to process recycling at recovery facilities due to foam contamination (foam is not recyclable locally), reducing harm to wildlife and improving human health. For more information, contact Wendy FarleyCampbell at the Florence Planning Dept. by calling 541-997-8237.

Library to host Oregon covered bridge expert

Oregon covered bridge expert and enthusiast Jerry Russell of Salem will talk about the history and location of Oregon's many covered bridges on Saturday, July 15, at 1 p.m. in the Bromley Room at Siuslaw Public Library, 1460 Ninth St. in Florence. This presentation is part of the library's Adult Summer Reading "Build a Better World" program. Russell is a state expert in covered bridges, and Oregon features the largest collection of them in the West. The heyday of covered bridge building in Oregon occurred between 1905 and 1925, when there were an estimated 600 covered bridges in the state. By 1977, this number had dwindled to 56.

The Covered Bridge Society of Oregon, of which Russell is the vice-president, works to ensure the preservation of Oregon's covered bridges for future generations. Society members work with legislators, local governments, news organizations and historical societies to provide funding, maintenance and protection to save the state's roofed bridges. Not only does the society work to preserve the actual physical structures, they also document historic locations of bridges no longer in existence. This interesting and informative historic bridge talk by Russell is accompanied by an extensive and marvelous photograph display, "The Covered Bridges of Lane County," taken by the library's own Mary Colgan-Bennetts. Over many months, Colgan-Bennetts, an avid photographer, took pictures of each of the 20 Lane County covered bridges. Posted with each photo is information about the bridge. This is a must-see exhibit and will be on display in the library lobby through July 31. The covered bridge program is open to the public and will appeal to all who want to learn the fascinating history of the covered bridges of Oregon, including their locations. For more information about this and other adult summer reading programs, visit the Siuslaw Public Library, call 541-997-3132 or visit www.siuslawlibrary.org.

Matheny retires from OPB after 21 years

Judy Matheny, a long-time employee of Oregon Pacific Bank, retired Friday after 21 years at Oregon Pacific Bank and 37 years in the banking industry.

Matheny is well known in the community for her work in the bank's Trust Department, where she worked as a Trust Officer assisting many area residents with estate planning and settlement, wealth management and a variety of other trust and fiduciary services.

Matheny's banking career began in 1992, when she worked as a teller, financial services representative and Branch Consolidation Specialist for the First Interstate Bank of Oregon in Eugene. In 1996, she was hired by Oregon Pacific Bank as an administrative assistant for the bank's Trust and Investments

Department. After earning her Certified Trust & Financial Advisor (CTFA) designation in 2001, it wasn't long until she became a Trust Officer in 2002 and was promoted to Assistant Vice President in 2005. "Working with Judy was one of the greatest pleasures I ever had," says Jay Boelter, Director of Trust & Wealth Management Services. "Judy was a big part of our trust department. Her knowledge and years of experience helped bring the department to where it is today.

"She set a great example for everyone at work. She was a role model by the ways of her teamwork, diligence, efficiency and friendliness. All of us here at Oregon Pacific Bank wish her the very best in her retirement."

Matheny personally interviewed and hired her successor, Tina Meyers, in 1998. Meyers will be filling Matheny's role as Trust Officer and CTFA for Oregon Pacific Bank's Trust Department in Florence.

Fire Marshal gives wildfire prevention tips

State Fire Marshal Jim Walker is cautioning Oregonians and summer visitors to be vigilant with wildfire prevention and safety.

The OSFM encourages everyone to follow these wildfire prevention guidelines:

- Know fire risks and obey fire restrictions, such as campfire bans.

- Avoid parking or driving on dry grass as hot vehicles can start a wildfire.

- Vehicles are required to have a shovel and fire extinguisher or at least a gallon of water in many areas.

- Do not use candles, fire-works, tiki torches or other open flames in wildland areas.

- Remember that sky lanterns are illegal in Oregon airspace.

- Dispose of smoking material in deep, sturdy ashtrays.

For more wildfire prevention information and restrictions, visit www.keeporegongreen.org.
