Fishing

from 1B

rivers is two per day over 8-inches.

SILETZ RIVER: Steelhead, Chinook, trout

The Siletz River is open for fall Chinook and fishing is starting to pick up in the bay. Spring Chinook and summer steelhead are being caught, and fishing should continue to improve.

Recycling hatchery summer steelhead from the Siletz Falls trap has ended for the season. Casting spinners, drifting bait or using a bobber and jig can be effective.

There should be some nice cutthroat around. Remember the limit on streams and rivers is two per day over 8-inches.

WILSON RIVER: Steelhead, trout

Summer steelhead fishing on the Wilson has been moderate to slow, but there are fish throughout the system. September can be a great time to target these fish as cooler nights lower water temps, and fish that have been holding get more active.

Target riffles and the top of pools during first and last light, and concentrate on deeper holding pools once the sun is on the water.

Fishing stealthy, with light gear, and targeting first and last light is often the key to success with these fish.

The Wilson doesn't open for fall Chinook above tide water (Hwy 101 bridge) until Sept. 16.

Trout is also season open and there should be some nice cutthroat around. Remember, the limit on streams and rivers is two per day over 8 inches.

COOS COUNTY LAKES AND PONDS: Warmwater fish, trout

Largemouth bass fishing has been good in many of the area smaller lakes. Bluegills can be found in area lakes right along the weed lines.

Anglers have still catching rainbow trout at Empire Lakes.

Fishing is best in the deep-est part of the lakes.
