ROTARY FIGHTING POLIO

COURTESY PHOTO

On Sept. 19, the Florence Rotary Club was honored to have District 5110 Governor Claudette McWilliams (center) present for the meeting, during which Cool at the Coast Golf Co-Chairs Deb Lamb and Craig Sanders presented Claudette with a check for $4,000 for End Polio Now. Since Rotary and its partners launched the Global Polio Eradication Initiative nearly 30 years ago, the incidents of polio has been reduced by more than 99.9 percent, from about 350,000 cases a year to just 37 cases in 2016. To sustain this progress and protect all children from polio, Rotary has committed to raising $50 million per year over the next three years in support of global polio eradication efforts. The Bill & Melinda Gates Foundation will match Rotary's commitment 2:1.

Dunes City wins prestigious 'Gold Safety Award'

The City of Dunes City received a well-deserved safety award at the League of Oregon Cities annual conference late last week.

The award, received by Florence Mayor Joe Henry on behalf of Dunes City, took home the Gold Safety Award for a City in Group 1 (having 1 to 14 employees.)

City/County Insurance Services (CIS) presented the award in recognition of the city's good employee safety record during the 2016-17 year.

The annual CIS/League of Oregon Cities (LOC) award, more than three decades old, rewards cities with the fewest number of work days lost due to on-the-job injuries.

It showcases employee safety, focusing on training, a proven track record in avoiding injuries, and management's commitment to a safe work environment.

"At CIS, we've redoubled our focus on keeping safety front and center for our workers' compensation program members," said CIS' Executive Director Lynn McNamara. "Our winners are cities that adopt safe work practices and make sure those practices are followed, day in and day out.

"Their commitment and vigilance produces results: employees stay on the job, and costs stay down."

"Since I came to work for the city," said City Administrator Jamie Mills, "the city has updated its Personnel Policy Handbook, has instituted quarterly safety training sessions, has provided storage for emergency supplies for each of our staff members, and has completed a number of long-standing safety issues in the form of anchoring shelving, posting escape routes, providing emergency lighting, and other small, yet vital activities.

"I'm pleased that this work has been recognized beyond our local area."

Workshop to teach ways to identify 'fake news'

The Siuslaw Public Library will be hosting an Adult Civics workshop on Saturday, Oct. 28, from noon to 1:30 p.m. in the Bromley Room at the main library in Florence.

The non-partisan workshop, titled "Misinformation, Fake News and Political Propaganda," will be led by Donna Cohen, a teacher and librarian, and is designed to enhance civic knowledge and inspire political engagement.

Sometimes it is difficult to sort out truth from fiction in the overwhelming number of messages directed at the public by politicians, news sources and other media.

This workshop will help participants learn where to find accurate information and distinguish the truth from fiction by employing critical thinking strategies. Real-life examples will be used to show how information can be, intentionally or not, distorted.

Logical fallacies, political ads, news headlines, graphs and charts, the effect of language chosen to express ideas, and other types of information will be examined during the workshop in a "what do you see here?/what is missing?" format.

This civics program will be facilitated by Donna Cohen. Both a teacher and librarian, Cohen is focused on presenting non-partisan workshops for adults that fill gaps in civic and political understanding and that encourage critical evaluation of information.

She is actively involved in various civic/political projects. This civics workshop is designed for adults and is free. Reservations are not required but seating is limited so plan to arrive early.

For more information, visit the library, the library website at www.siuslawlibrary.org, or call 541-997-3132.
