Lane County commissioners choose Bozievich as chair

Lane County Commissioner Jay Bozievich

Lane County Commissioner Sid Leiken

The Lane County Board of Commissioners appointed a new chair and vice chair during the opening minutes of its first regular meeting of 2018.

West Lane County Commissioner Jay Bozievich will serve as chair in 2018 and Springfield Commissioner Sid Leiken will serve as vice chair.

"I am honored to serve our community as chair in 2018," said Bozievich. "We are doing great work as a county and as a partner in our community. I am especially excited to continue our work around economic development in rural Lane County."

Leiken said, "I appreciate the opportunity to serve as vice chair in 2018. We have a lot of exciting work before us and I look forward to providing leadership on behalf of our board and community this year."

North Eugene Commissioner Pat Farr was also recognized for his leadership as chair during 2017 and presented with a ceremonial gavel as a gesture of thanks from his fellow commissioners.

Dunes City announces meeting to discuss streets

The Dunes City Council has scheduled a Town Hall Meeting to discuss streets and roadways to be held Tuesday, Feb. 13, at 6 p.m., at Dunes City Hall, 82877 Spruce St. in Dunes City's historic Westlake area.

"The City Council would like to hear from Dunes City residents about their concerns with the roadways in Dunes City," said Councilor Duke Wells. "We're looking for some feedback so we can set some goals for getting the work done."

Richard Palmer, Dunes City's Public Works Maintenance Supervisor, concurred.

"There's a lot of work to do and very little money to go around. We need to set some priorities and hope the citizens will come forward to help identify what those priorities should be," he said.

Dunes City does not impose property taxes on its residents, so the city relies solely on Oregon State transportation apportionments to keep its streets in good condition.

Historically, that amount has been a little over $50,000 a year. Thanks to legislation spear-headed by State Rep. Caddy McKeown, that amount will be a bit higher in the coming years, but, according to City Administrator Jamie Mills, the amount will only allow for one or two projects a year.

The last road repair job that was done for the city cost over $60,000 and only involved a small portion of one street.

In addition to the condition of the pavement, drainage is of great concern.

Drains in numerous areas of the city are clogged with debris and backing up, which creates very large puddles during high or extended rain fall events. In the last year, the city has focused its efforts on cleaning and repairing drains in areas susceptible to standing water.

Some of those drains, however, are just catch basins that either need to be expanded or attached to newly installed drainage piping — all of which costs big money.

Dunes City residents are encouraged to attend this open discussion with their city council members.

Dear Oregon Coast Humane Society Members,

Thank you for your membership. Over the past several months, the Board of Directors has been working to determine the extent of members' rights in the organization. A group of members brought to the attention of the current Board their concern that members have a right to elect the Board of Directors. In practice, the Board of Directors was not elected by members for many years. Following that practice, the current Board of Directors also was not elected by members, but was appointed by the Board.

The issue of members' rights was referred to the Oregon Department of Justice this past fall. In order to analyze the issue, the Department of Justice requested corporate records of Oregon Coast Humane Society. In November, the Board produced over 3,000 pages in response to the request. After review, the Department of Justice determined that the Oregon Coast Humane Society was established as a membership organization. Therefore, its members have a right to elect the Board of Directors.

The Department of Justice has requested the Board develop a plan to transition the organization back to membership elections, whereby members will elect the Board of Directors. The plan must be approved by the Department of Justice.

During this interim time, the Board of Directors will cease holding monthly public meetings. The Board informed the Department of its plan and the Department did not object. We will, instead, focus our efforts on transitioning the organization. Once a plan for membership elections has been approved by the Department of Justice, we will provide that information to you. We hope to have this information to you soon.

It continues to be a privilege to serve this organization. We thank you for your patience during this time of transition and for your continued support of our mission to rescue, care for, and find responsible, loving, permanent homes for homeless and at-risk dogs and cats; to advance the goal of a no-kill community; to promote the principal of a lifetime commitment to our pets; and to provide spay-neuter and education programs to the public.

Sincerely,
Oregon Coast Humane Society Board of Directors
