Beyond

Thursday at 8 p.m. on FREE

With his mission in the Realm evidently wrapped up, Holden (Burkely Duffield) tries to concentrate on his "new normal," which includes a mundane job and a promising relationship with Willa (Dilan Gwyn), but he can't shake a feeling of foreboding as this supernatural drama returns for its sophomore season in the two-hour premiere "Two Zero One." Diane (Romy Rosemont) is asked to make a major sacrifice to help the investigation into Hollow Sky, and it's something that Tom (Michael McGrady) doesn't like.

Cocaine Godmother: The Griselda Blanco Story

Saturday at 8 p.m., 12:01 a.m. on LIFE

Academy Award winner Catherine Zeta Jones ("Chicago") takes the title role in this new 2017 docudrama based on the career of the woman who became a pioneer in the Miami-based cocaine trade. Shortly after arriving in that Florida city with her first husband (Carlos Rodriguez), Griselda soon entered the local drug trade, using beautiful women, the elderly and children as mules to import Colombian cocaine. A documentary on the same subject follows.

The Resident

Sunday at 7 p.m. on KLSR

In a season that already has reaffirmed how potent and popular a drama series about doctors can be, this new addition — normally to be seen Mondays — follows several young medics as they train for their careers. The ensemble cast includes Matt Czuchy ("The Good Wife"), Emily VanCamp ("Revenge") and Melina Kanakaredes ("CSI: NY"), and there's also impressive pedigree behind the camera: Filmmaker Philip Noyce ("Patriot Games"), who directed the pilot, also is among the executive producers.
