On the Cover: Trent & Jenna Petersen

Florence residents Trent and Jenna Petersen tied the knot at Heceta Head Lighthouse on July 7, 2017. The stunning backdrop of the Pacific Ocean and the historic Lightkeeper's House made this the perfect choice for Jenna and Trent. The bride is the daughter of Jim and Carrie Hoberg and Eric and Joyce Rines, and the groom is the son of Dave and Jeanna Petersen, all of Florence. The bride's party consisted of Tyler Shearer as man of honor and bridesmaids Angel Pishvai and Jamie Hoberg, the bride's sister-in-law. The groomsmen were Bryce Petersen as best man for his brother, along with Kevin Cox, Cyrus Pishvai, Josh Coombs and Trevor Norton. Family friend Tyler Stephens, from Canada, officiated the ceremony and Curt Peters of Digital Dunes Photography in Florence took photos. A dinner reception was held at the Heceta Head Light House Bed and Breakfast immediately after the outdoor ceremony. Afterwards, Trent and Jenna embarked on their honeymoon, a cross-country roadtrip to Chicago. See page 6 for more photos of the bride and groom.

On the beautiful Oregon coast, you choose the setting...

A small log church, a lighthouse, a stone shelter high above Cape Perpetua, a clearing in the woods, under an old growth Sitka spruce, aboard a cruiser on a bay or river, atop a rocky shoreline...

This is the place for a most special union. One that is yours and yours alone.
