Tuesday night was the first of two final home games this week for Siuslaw's basketball programs, with both teams taking on the Bruins of Brookings-Harbor on Glenn Butler Court.

The second-place Lady Bruins (6-1) started out strong and never looked back, thanks in large part to shooting from senior guard Abby Farmer, who Viking senior shooting guard Jake Hickson led scoring Tuesday night with 21 points.

While the Lady Viks' offense wasn't able to overtake the Lady Bruins, it wasn't for lack of trying, particularly on the defensive end with double-digit rebounding from freshman Gracie Freudenthal (12), junior Madison Reynolds (11), and 9 boards from junior Alyssa

Sailors suffer narrow loss to Eagles, 53-50

Siuslaw News

Mapleton's boys basketball team entered its final week of competition this week, beginning Tuesday night on the road at Eddyville (7-4, 12-8).

Though the match-up ended in a narrow 53-50 loss to the Eagles, it showed marked improvement since the last time the two teams faced off on the hardwood, when Eddyville outscored Mapleton 41-29.

This time, the Sailors remained in a tight race with a chance to win in the final minutes against the Mountain West League's third-place team.

Thursday night, the Sailors finished the regular season at home, hosting league rival Triangle Lake during Mapleton's senior night.

Boys team members who were recognized included Cole Spencer, Dominic Wells and Tanner Wilson.

Results were unavailable at press time.

The girls program, canceled last month due to an insufficient number of players, included no seniors on its 6-person roster.

Time Out

By LLOYD LITTLE
Retired teacher, coach and game official

(With more than 55 years as an athlete, coach, official, parent and spectator, I've gained some insights and perspectives regarding athletics. In this weekly column, I share what I've learned about sports from these multiple points of view.)

"Discipline"

The first adults responsible for discipline of their children are parents. The discipline given in childhood can often influence the manner in which their children, as adults, administer discipline in the future. Teachers and coaches also correct misbehavior in their students and athletes.

Each adult, whether it is a parent, a teacher or a coach, they need to set guidelines of appropriate behavior.

What is seen as misconduct at home, school, or in athletics may vary from home to home, class to class, and from team to team.

As a coach, determining what your standards of behavior and your discipline may be drawn from your own life experiences. However, as Adrian Peterson and many other adults have learned the hard way, past practices are not always acceptable today.

In 1963, my brother and I moved to Warrenton, Ore. I was in Mrs. Leding's sixth-grade class. One day, she stepped out of the class and
