Congressional candidate speaks in Florence

Jo Rae Perkins, a Republican candidate, spoke with a number of interested voters last Thursday at the River Roasters coffee house on Bay Street. Perkins is running for the seat currently held by Peter Defazio and said she wants to be elected to support President Trump's 'Make America Great Again' agenda. She said she believes the President is "doing a great job," scoring him "Eight out of 10, at least."

Siuslaw Library, City Lights present Mel Gurtov book signing

Local author and international diplomacy expert Mel Gurtov will return to City Lights Cinemas on Thursday, March 1, at 6 p.m., to celebrate the launch of his newest book, "Engaging Adversaries."

The evening will begin with a book presentation by Professor Gurtov, followed by a screening of the documentary "The Final Year," with a Q & A and book signing with Gurtov after the film. This event will be a rare glimpse into international diplomacy with the coauthor of the Pentagon Papers.

Gurtov recently spoke at a sold-out City Lights Cinemas event and screening for the Oscar-nominated film "The Post."

"It is unusual to have someone of Mel Gurtov's stature as a writer and thinker about international affairs who can also make that topic so interesting," said City Lights Cinemas co-owner Michael Falter. "And with his new book 'Engaging Adversaries' about to be released, this felt like a great way to get the Siuslaw Public Library involved as well. I believe 'The Final Year' is the perfect film to tie it all together."

"The Final Year" is a fascinating glimpse into the world of international negotiation as the camera follows President Barack Obama's foreign policy team during "The Final Year" of his tenure. The documentary follows Secretary of State John Author Mel Gurtov will be signing copies of his latest book, "Engaging Adversaries," at City Lights Cinemas on March 1.

Kerry, United Nations Ambassador Samantha Power and Deputy National Security advisor and speechwriter Ben Rhodes as they put out fires around the globe.

Deadwood resident Gurtov is Professor Emeritus of Political Science at Portland State University. He has worked at the RAND Corporation, where he coauthored the Pentagon Papers, and has published over 20 books and numerous articles on East Asian affairs, U.S. foreign policy, and global politics from a human-interest perspective in addition to serving as a Senior Fulbright Scholar in Japan and South Korea.

His newest book, "Engaging Adversaries," was published in January 2018 and explores how potential conflicts in world politics can be overcome. The book examines how negotiation and diplomacy progressed under Obama with Cuba and Iran, and probes its potential for U.S.-Russian and U.S.-North Korean relations and other critical hotspots. Copies of the book will be available to purchase at the event.

Anyone who purchases a copy of the book prior to the screening of "The Final Year" will receive a free ticket to watch the movie and attend the Q&A session with Professor Gurtov after the event. Advance tickets to attend the film are already available at City Lights Cinemas, and all sales from purchases of the book will benefit the Siuslaw Public Library.

"I can't thank Michael Falter and Mel Gurtov enough for allowing the Siuslaw Public Library to cosponsor this program," said library director Meg Spencer. "The film and the book are both about learning and exploration, just like the library."

All proceeds raised from the evening will help support the Siuslaw Public Library District's roof replacement fund.
