

“Breath of Spring!”

‘Grow your own’ with Laurel Bay Gardens and its displays at the Florence Home & Garden Show

Take a deep breath and feel the spring time air at Laurel Bay Gardens’ 2018 Home and Garden Show booth.

Out front, Laurel Bay Gardens will get your gardening juices flowing with a “Stroll Through the Berry Patch.” Blueberry, strawberry and other fruit plants will be available for purchase at special home show prices, along with Stone Creation self-contained water features and DIY patio and fire pit ideas.

Inside, Laurel Bay Nursery will be in the center of the Home Show with a “Breath of Spring” landscape design. Planter beds, paver ideas and colorful shrubs and flowers perfect for growing in coastal Florence will be featured, along with new garden art and pottery displays.

“New to our booth and nursery, we have the Grow Your Own Center, featuring VegePods, the new self-contained gardens perfect for decks, patios, and small spaces,” said Dan Garbe, Laurel Bay Gardens’ nursery manager. “We will also have new kits for growing your own root cuttings, amazing new potting soil and fertilizers great for container gardening and Smart Pots for light weight container gardening.”

Laurel Bay will also be showcasing its new line of Haitian hammered metal art, celebrating fair trade by Haitian artists. Look for the colorful ceramic fish in the garden, along with a sample of the new line of Italian statuary and water features.

Laurel Bay Gardens carries the highest quality plants and organic soils for your landscape, as well as flowers, trees and shrubs. The nursery carries a full line of hardscape products including concrete stepping stones, pavers and wall blocks.

Edible items will be available for purchase, including Laurel Bay’s famous “frog balls,” aka pickled Brussel sprouts, Inna vinegar shrubs, along with Oregon coast jams and jellies. The market tables will be filled with our new lines of home decor to help you put the “Oh yes!” in your home. Colorful succulents, tillandsia air plants and wonderful indoor pottery will help you put a breath of spring in your home.

Add fragrance to your home with our full line of locally made soaps and candles from Eastern Oregon. Stop by the booth to pick up a valuable coupon for bare root berries, fruit trees, garden compost and planting fertilizers.

Experience our modern patio garden where Laurel Bay’s dynamic landscape design is premiering the paver patio “Columbia Slate.” The dark textured pavers can be installed professionally or by the homeowner to create a stunning patio design. The design will also feature a selection of Laurel Bay’s retaining wall block, which can be used to make garden planters and fire pits.

Experience the visual look of using plants as walls and accent points with creative garden art infusions. Potted outdoor planters from Oregon Coast Pottery will showcase the many different types of container gardening for decks and patios.

“We’ve expanded our nursery to add both classic and vibrant colors and shaped pottery for our customers to choose from,” said Lisa Walter Sedlacek, landscape designer at Laurel Bay Gardens. “We will be featuring plantings with the latest in colorful arrangements for sun or shade patios, designed by our talented floral design staff at the nursery.”

Stop by the booth to sign up to win a $25 gift certificate. There will be a drawing every day with three winners for the entire weekend. Or stop by to say hello and share your gardening questions and stories with the Laurel Bay nursery staff.

After the home show, be sure to visit Laurel Bay Gardens, just three minutes north of Florence on Highway 101. Laurel Bay Gardens Nursery carries the highest quality plants and organic soils for your landscape. In addition to flowers, trees and shrubs, Laurel Bay carries a full line of hardscape products including concrete stepping stones, pavers and wall blocks. Oregon Coast Pottery, the newest addition to the nursery, showcases indoor and outdoor pots for all your gardening and décor ideas. Inside the gift shop, experience the newest in gifts and indoor decor ideas.

For over 29 years, Laurel Bay Gardens has provided full-service residential landscape installation and maintenance, offering quality design and service to their clients.

“We know what grows,” Walter Sedlacek said. “One size does not fit all in this area. We don’t offer cookie-cutter ideas to clients, and we don’t just stick a plant in the sand and hope it grows. We invest heavily in continuous education for our staff and management for the benefit of our customers.”

Laurel Bay Gardens, we’ll be glad to get you growing!
