

Workshop from 1A

National Healthcare Decisions Day exists to inspire, educate and empower the public and providers about the importance of advance care planning.

The initiative encourages patients to express their wishes regarding healthcare and for providers and facilities to respect those wishes, whatever they may be.

Attendees of the Home Health and Hospice advance directive workshop will receive a copy of the Advance Directive Workbook and instructions on how to complete the Advance Directive Form, which requires signatures by the individual, two witnesses and the chosen or appointed health care representative.

"There are some important facts to know about a Health Care Advance Directive," Wood said. "It is voluntary, it does not expire and it may be revoked at any time."

For more information on the LCC workshop, contact Wood at 541-997-3418.

Election from 1A

In alphabetical order, the candidates are:

- Brenda Baugh
- Dolly Brock
- Bonnie Compton
- Sandra Davidson
- Philip Felkner
- William Fleenor
- Jack Hannigan
- Jerry Hatcher
- Nancy Michaylytza-Salvatore
- Jay Nefcy
- Jacqueline Parker
- Shauna Robbers
- Judy Roth

Grant stressed the need for members who wished to vote in the current election to read the information contained in the packet and return the ballots in a timely manner. "Everything is proceeding as outlined in the letter sent to members last month. Members in good standing should be receiving a packet with candidate information and a ballot. They should follow the instructions included, making sure they allow enough time for the ballots to be received by 4 p.m. on April 16.

Members may also drop off their ballots with the election coordinator at the Law Office of Jane C. Hanawalt, 327 Laurel St. in Florence.

"We expect to announce the elected candidates soon after the ballots have been received," Grant said.

Green Film series brings 'WASTED!' to Florence

The Siuslaw News and KCST/KCFM Coast Radio are excited to once again partner with City Lights Cinemas to host a community-screening of the new food waste film, "WASTED!: The Story of Food Waste."

There will be two showings on Thursday, April 26, at 12:30 and 6 p.m.

"WASTED!" exposes the criminality of food waste and how it's directly contributing to climate change and shows us how each of us can make small changes to solve one of our greatest problems.

Admission for the film will be free with a donation of a canned or dry food item for Florence Food Share, whose mission is to alleviate hunger in Western Lane County.

Admission tickets are required, limit two per person, and available starting March 26 at Siuslaw News, 148 Maple St., and City Lights Cinemas, 1920 Highway 101.

"WASTED!" is shown as part of Siuslaw News and Coast Radio's Green Film series, targeting important topics through innovative films and community discussion.

The advertisement is a vertical banner with a purple background and a decorative border of white lilies and gold ribbons. It features several text boxes and images related to Easter services.
