Dunes to discuss building program shutdown May 7

The Dunes City Mayor and City Council have scheduled a meeting to discuss options that may be available to the city to address the recent notification from the Building Codes Division that city contracts with a third party for building inspections is considered to be a violation of the Oregon Constitution.

Consequently, Dune City's building program will be shut down by the state, effective July 1, unless action is taken by the city prior to that date.

"Several options exist that the city could take to resolve the alleged violations," said Mayor Robert Forsythe. "We're looking for some feedback from our local contractors and residents to help the council identify which option might be the best for our circumstances."

Options available include each city hiring its own building inspector and electrical inspector, and ask that the building inspector also serve as the building official; contracting with another city or two to "share" in hiring the building inspector, electrical inspector, and a building official; letting the program go to Lane County for permit issuance and inspections; letting the program go to the State of Oregon for permit issuance and inspections; or pursue litigation to stop the state directive from occurring.

Dunes City contractors and residents are encouraged to attend this open discussion with their City Council members.

FACC to learn about Goodwill at next meeting

The Florence Area Community Coalition meeting set for Wednesday, May 2, from 9 to 10:30 a.m. in the Bromley Room of the Siuslaw Public Library will feature Carla Barnett as its speaker.

Barnett is the manager of the local Goodwill Industries program. Her history with Goodwill goes all the way back to when she was 15 and living in Gresham, Ore.

Although she has had many managerial positions since then, she said she has a passion for Goodwill's mission "...to provide vocational opportunities to individuals with barriers to employment, and to train and challenge them to achieve their fullest potential."

Barnett will share information about local projects and programs, including Jobs Connections and Goodwill's move to their new location on Highway 101 in late spring and early summer.

This month's featured agency is the School Gardens Project at Siuslaw Elementary School.

Consider bringing hand tools, seeds, gloves or cash to donate to this project. The project is one component of the "Farm to Fork" curriculum that teaches students about food production and healthy eating.

In May, the FACC Board will be soliciting nominations for board member elections to be held at the June meeting. Anyone interested in joining the FACC board can call 541-999-2927 for more information.
