Lane County offers tips in the event of lost ballot

Lane County ballots were mailed Thursday, April 26, and registered voters should have received their ballots by now.

Voters who did not receive their ballots in the mail by Tuesday, May 1, should first confirm that they are registered at www.oregonvotes.gov.

If they have moved to any new address, even the apartment next door, they will need to update their registration.

Voters can update online at www.oregonvotes.gov if they have a valid DMV license, identification card or permit number. The same website can be used to update or remove a mailing address.

You can also complete a registration card and mail or deliver it to Lane County Elections.

Ballots may not be forwarded by law. If voters are not going to be at a regular residence or mailing address, they need to submit a request for an absentee ballot at the temporary location.

If voters are unsure what to do, they should call Lane County Elections at 541-682-4234 to determine what action they must take in order to receive a ballot.

Lane County Elections is located at 275 W. 10th Ave., on the corner of 10th and Lincoln streets in downtown Eugene.

Public office hours are 9 a.m. to noon and 1 to 4 p.m., Monday through Friday.

On Election Day, May 15, the Lane County Elections Office will be open from 7 a.m. to 8 p.m.

Mapleton Interact gives to Food Share

Mapleton Interact Students recently held a food drive and also accepted cash donations for the Mapleton Food Share. At the Rotary meeting on Tuesday, April 17, Kaleigh Anderson (left) and Richy Gastelum (center) provide a check for $400 to Karen Harden from Mapleton Food Share as well as a large container of nonperishable food.

State Fire Marshal announces Wildfire Awareness Month

May is Wildfire Awareness Month in Oregon, and State Fire Marshal Jim Walker is asking homeowners to use this opportunity to make sure their home is protected from wildfire.

In a unified proclamation, governors from Oregon, Idaho, Nevada and California have joined to encourage homeowners to begin thinking about the approaching fire season. This year's Wildfire Awareness Week theme asks: "Have you done enough to protect your home from wildfire?"

"The roof is the most critical part of the house when it comes to wildfire protection," said

Walker. "Embers can collect and ignite on the roof or in gutters and enter unscreened openings around the house.

"Although non-combustible roofing material is preferred, regardless of the construction, keep roofs, gutters and eaves clear of all leaves, pine needles and other flammable debris."

The Oregon Office of State Fire Marshal, in collaboration with Keep Oregon Green, the Oregon Department of Forestry, Oregon forest protective associations and federal wildland agencies are taking this opportunity to promote defensible space around homes before fire strikes this summer.

To reduce the risk, fire officials suggest removing dead vegetation a minimum of 30 feet around your house. In most cases, trees and healthy plants do not need to be removed.

However, trees should be pruned and grass kept short and green to keep fire on the ground and more manageable by fire crews.

If you're thinking of landscaping, ask your local nursery or Oregon State University Extension agent about fire resistant plants.

Homeowners should also keep access in mind for large fire trucks. Long driveways should be at least 12 feet wide, have 10 feet of vegetation clearance from the centerline out, and about 14 feet overhead.

Large vehicle turnaround areas are critical for your safety as well as firefighter safety.

It is the homeowners' responsibility to protect their homes by building defensible space.

For more information, visit the websites for Keep Oregon Green at keeporegongreen.org, Oregon Department of Forestry at www.oregon.gov/ODF, or call your nearest ODF or forest protective association office.

NEW ODV GRANTS FUND MULTIPLE VETERAN SERVICE PROJECTS

The Oregon Department of Veterans' Affairs has awarded grants totaling more than half a million dollars to fund key projects that will improve veterans' access to transportation, housing, health care and other vital services across the state.

The grants are funded through the Veteran Services Grant Fund, a new program established by the Legislature during the 2017 session. Based on the funding available, the evaluation committee selected 10 outstanding proposals from nonprofit, governmental and community organizations that are already providing significant and much-needed services to Oregon veterans and their families.

The response to this new grant program included a total of 59 grant proposals were submitted, with requests in excess of $5.3 million.

In Lane County, the Lane Council of Governments Seniors and Disability Division won $46,933 for case management for veteran's access, use of community services and benefits; to develop an action plan; and to assist on applications.

The Veteran Services Grant Fund receives funding from lottery revenues, as authorized by Measure 96. For a list of awardees is at www.oregon.gov/odva/Connect/Documents/Grants/2017-Veteran-Services-Grant/Veteran-ServicesGrantRecipients.pdf.
