

Florence Soroptimists award $28,000 in scholarships

Soroptimist International Club of Florence awarded $28,000 in scholarships at the May 24 annual Night of Excellence program at Siuslaw High School.

Presentations were made by Scholarship Committee Chair Stephanie Restrepo.

The Eugene and Thora Chin Scholarships of $5,000 each for Western Lane or Douglas County residents (male or female) planning to attend a college or university were awarded to: Jordan Northrop, Delilah Galli, Lainey Goss and Zoe Gonzaga.

Chigasaki Scholarships available to women who plan to attend a college or university with the goal of obtaining a degree or certificate in a medically related field were presented to: Karen Trebolo and Abigail Coday in the amount of $3,000 each.

The Professional Technical Award available to anyone enrolled in a professional or technical certificate program for $2,000 was awarded to Emma Collins.

The Soroptimist International of Florence is actively involved in improving the lives of women and girls in the local community.

For information on membership, contact Jo Hine at 541-997-2233, any Soroptimist member, siflorence@soroptimist.net or the group's Facebook page.

Community Coalition to elects new board members June 6

Wednesday, June 6, marks the annual meeting of the Florence Area Community Coalition (FACC). Join the coalition in the Bromley Room of the Siuslaw Public Library, 1460 Ninth St., from 9 to 10:30 a.m. as new board members are elected. In addition, there will be a preview of the June 22 “Aging in Place Forum.”

Board member candidates for the coming year include current board members President Sandi Young, Vice President Sharon Hobart, Secretary Jackie Guy, Treasurer Pamela Long, Shauna Robbers and Linda Castro. Returning to the board is former member Linda Weight.

New to the board are Jackie Guy, volunteer coordinator for PeaceHealth Home Health and Hospice; Greg Wood, pastor of the Presbyterian Church of the Siuslaw and Emergency Cold Weather Shelter; Janell Morgan, executive director of Florence Habitat for Humanity; and Jesse Dolin, City of Florence Economic Development Catalyst.

Retiring from the board are Monica Kosman and Suzanne Mann-Heintz.

This year’s “Aging in Place Forum” will be held Friday, June 22, from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m., at the Florence Events Center, 715 Quince St.

FACC is excited to have Jatunn Gibson, Aging in Place Manager for Habitat for Humanity International, as the keynote speaker. There will be a full day of workshops, exhibitors, activities and information — just what you need to make your plan to age in place.

The entire forum is free thanks to the event’s generous sponsors, PeaceHealth, Habitat for Humanity, Lane Council of Governments, AARP and the City of Florence.

Watch for more information and a detailed insert in the Siuslaw News.

This month’s featured agency is Boys and Girls Club of Western Lane County’s Summer Program. This program runs from June 18 to Aug. 16 and serves approximately 60 kindergarten to grade 12 students, providing them with supervised activities, meals and a healthy environment. The cost of the program is $900 for the entire summer, but many of the students receive scholarships and teens only pay $50 for the summer to encourage them to participate. Many of the students would be on their own without this important program.

Attendees at the June FACC meeting are encouraged to donate art supplies (pens, pencils, crayons, markers, paints, etc.) or sports equipment (all kinds of balls, mitts, badminton rackets and birds, etc.) or to donate cash, which can be applied to the scholarship fund.

There will be no July FACC meeting, as the board will be holding its annual planning retreat.

For more information about FACC, call 541-999-2927.

Garden Club awards scholarship

Scholarship winner Kathleen Dalbeck stands with Florence Garden Club presenter DeEtte Miller.

The Florence Garden Club recently awarded Kathleen Dalbeck the club’s first Adult Scholarship for Watershed/Environmental Educational Goals.

The $500 scholarship was launched in April 2016 to support students pursuing careers in fields related to Water Quality/Conservation/Treatment, Watershed Science, Energy Management or Sustainability Coordination.

Dalbeck is a Florence resident and a native Oregonian working towards a bachelor of science from Oregon State University in Fisheries and Wildlife Sciences. She will be working for the Oregon Department of Fish and Wildlife as the Port of Siuslaw sampler for recreational fisheries.

Port Seeks Commission Applicants

The Port of Siuslaw Board of Commissioners will appoint a district citizen to fill the Position 2 vacancy created by the recent resignation of Nancy Rickard and Position 4 vacancy created by the recent resignation of David Huntington who became Port Manager. The term of the appointee will expire on 30 June 2019 at which time an elected successor will be seated. Persons wishing to be appointed to the Port Commission vacancy should obtain an application from the Port office at 100 Harbor Street, or the Port’s web site www.portofsiuslaw.com. Applications will be accepted until 5:00pm Friday, 15 June 2018. Applicants must be registered voters residing within the Port of Siuslaw district. Applicants may be invited for interviews.

The Port of Siuslaw is a Special District authorized by Oregon law to help sustain the economic vitality of western Lane County. The district boundary encompasses most of the Siuslaw River watershed, including the coastal communities of Florence and Dunes City, and extending upriver to Mapleton, Walton, Lorane, and Blachly. The Port is the sponsor of the federal maritime investment in Lane County for maintenance of the channel, harbor, jetties, and navigable ocean bars. The Port also has significant authority under Oregon statute for local economic development and infrastructure projects that encourage job creation and tourism.

The Port of Siuslaw Board of Commissioners meet regularly at 7:00pm on the third Wednesday of each month in the Port office at 100 Harbor Street in Florence. Regular Port Commission meetings are open to the public.

Questions should be directed to the Port office at 541-997-3426.

Dave's RE-CORNER

YES

All glass containers are recyclable. Clear, brown, green, yellow, blue, big, small -- You name it! Feel free to place all types of glass bottles and jars in your recycling bin. Because jar tops are made out of metals and plastic, it's best to remove them. It's always best if materials are cleaned before being put in your recycling bin. This helps to avoid contaminating any paper that might be mixed in with your glass.

While all glass is made out of the same basic materials (sand, ash, soda and lime), if you have a glass object that is not a standard glass container, you shouldn't place it in your recycling container. Glass made for other purposes, like windows and light bulbs, has different additives and coatings. These coatings make the glass break differently.
