Backstreet Gallery celebrates 13 years this Saturday

"No one could imagine 13 years ago when several artists met at a former bakery in Florence, Ore., that Backstreet Gallery would be so successful," said Meredith Draper, president of the gallery. "The result was something new in galleries for Florence."

Backstreet Gallery, located at 1421 Bay St. in Historic Old Town Florence, is an artist co-operative and has been that way for the past 13 years.

All the artist/members share the work to manage the co-op as a place to show and market their art.

Many members, past and present, have worked together to make Backstreet Gallery one of the best galleries in the

The founding members began the gallery with passion, perseverance and vision, which attracted new talents and made it what it is today.

"Because a number of creative people designed this business, they not only have benefitted themselves but also the community," Draper said. "It is a place where art can be enjoyed and shared by all who come to visit. Backstreet attracts not only locals, but examining the guest book is like a trip around the world."

As a work in progress, every day members discover new ways to make the gallery more engaging.

The community is invited to join members on Saturday, June 9, from 3 to 5 p.m., for the Backstreet Birthday Celebration.

This is in conjunction with the Annual Community Challenge Show, 'Bots and Beguiling Beings; a special showing of work by Karmen Trebolo, Siuslaw High School recipient of a $500 art scholarship awarded by the gallery; and the 2nd Saturday Gallery Tour. There will be refreshments and live music by Denny Weaver.

"There are all sorts of reasons to stop by on June 9, and many more to stop in anytime," Draper said.
