Local, state Law enforcement to continue ‘Click It or Ticket’ campaign

Law enforcement across Oregon is reminding motorists and their passengers about Oregon laws during a campaign that focuses on using the right safety restraints, including for those subject to Oregon’s newest occupant protection law:

- Children under age two must use a child seat with harness in a rear-facing position unless the child turned one year of age prior to May 8, 2017.

Children age two, or who turned one year of age prior to May 26, 2017, must continue to ride in a car seat with harness or in a booster until they reach age eight or 4 feet, 9 inches in height and the adult belt fits them correctly.

Why buckle up? Because studies show using the proper restraint can reduce the risk of major injury or death by 65 percent.

Yet in Oregon in 2016, crash data shows lack of a safety belt or a child restraint system was a factor in 26 percent of the 343 motor vehicle occupant deaths.

Be sure to use child safety seats correctly (see your manufacturer’s guidebook, or visit a safety seat check station.).

Buckle up day and night, no matter what vehicle you’re in or where you’re going. Don’t drive impaired and put the distractions away when you are behind the wheel, on your bicycle or walking in a busy area. Extra law enforcement, funded by a grant from ODOT’s Transportation Safety Division, is on the lookout.
