

Coldwell Banker Coast Real Estate agents recognized within Coldwell global network

Seven local real estate brokers at Coldwell Banker Coast Real Estate were recently honored for their 2017 production within the Coldwell Banker global network, according to company officials. Of the approximately 90,000 Coldwell Banker Associates worldwide, local brokers Rick Cox, Shirley Hunt, Wanda Johnson, Dave Forsberg, Diana Hackett, Dennis Pease and Lynnette Wikstrom all received production recognition placing them among in the upper echelon of the brokers in the Coldwell Banker system.

Also in 2017, Andy Johnson, owner and principal broker of the local firm, once again received the "Office Manager's Award for Excellence," a distinction presented to only 207 of the 3,000 Coldwell Banker offices worldwide. In addition, the local firm garnered top distinction among the region as a "Premier Office" recognized as a top producing company for its size across the U.S.

Johnson said, "In a small town such as Florence, to have seven of our brokers receive such coveted recognition in the Coldwell Banker system is truly a rare and extraordinary achievement. It is a result of their tireless work ethic, attention to detail, and an innate ability to connect with people and serve their needs.

Members of Coldwell Banker Coast Real Estate were recognized for their production within the company's international scope.

"An amazing accomplishment, in my opinion."

Coldwell Banker Coast Real Estate, one of Florence's longest established local businesses, is located at 100 Highway 101.

The local firm is in its 62nd year in business and has been an affiliate of Coldwell Banker, the nation's premier real estate network, since 1999.

About our Hospital

I would like to thank a fine group of people there that have helped me when I needed it. The Doctors, the Nurses and Assistants. They all helped to explain things to me, a 92 year old. I am very grateful to have them in our Hospital.
