Sheriff's office introduces new K-9 officer

The Lane County Sheriff's Office (LCSO) just hired a new employee, and he's not what you think. Hektor, a 20-month-old Belgian Malinois canine, is the LCSO's newest member of the K9 Unit.

Hektor and his new handler, Deputy Raymond May, are preparing for a multi-week training program that will result in their certification as a K9 team.

LCSO has historically had two law enforcement K9s, each with a deputy handler.

K9s use their keen sense of smell to assist in locating suspects, searching for evidence and finding missing people in Lane County.

dogs, Frits, is getting ready to retire. As luck would have it, Frits happened to have a son who inherited his skills as a police dog.

As Frits gets ready to retire, his son Hektor will follow in his footsteps as a LCSO canine.

The sheriff's office is holding fundraising efforts to help cover the cost of Hektor's certification training, which is $4,500.

The K9 Program is funded largely by community donations that cover the cost of food, veterinary services, equipment including, a bullet proof vest for the dog and training.

Those who would like to donate to the K9 Unit can do so by sending them to the LCSO at 125 E. Eighth Ave. in Eugene, or online through PayPal at www.paypal.me/LCSOK9Team.
