Library to host Oregon Dunes talk with local author

Local author and Oregon Dunes enthusiast Dina Pavlis will present a program about the coastal sand dunes, "The Oregon Dunes: A Vanishing Landscape?" on Saturday, July 14, at 1 p.m., in the Bromley Room of the Siuslaw Public Library in Florence, 1460 Ninth St.

This presentation is part of the library's Adult Summer Reading "Libraries Rock" program.

"The Oregon dunes span more than 40 miles and are important to coastal communities, both economically and ecologically," said Pavlis. "They delight residents and the approximately 500,000 visitors who travel to see them each year."

These coastal land features also support a plethora of native plants and wildlife.

And the dunes are disappearing before our eyes.

Pavlis, local author of "Secrets of the Oregon Dunes: How Did All That Sand Get Here, Anyway?" will share her knowledge of this unique landscape and what's being done to save the disappearing dunes during her July 14 discussion at the library.

Pavlis has spent many hours in the Oregon dunes. Not only has she written about the dunes, she is also a Certified Interpretive Guide (CIG), a volunteer for the U.S. Forest Service in the Oregon Dunes National Recreation Area, an Oregon Dunes Restoration Collaborative member and an exceptional steward of the Oregon Dunes.

There is no charge to attend the event and all who attend will receive information about how to volunteer for dunes restoration projects and about threatened species protection efforts in the Siuslaw Region.

The program is open to the public and will appeal to anyone who has explored or wants to explore the flora, fauna and varied landscapes of the Oregon dunes.

For more information about this and other adult summer reading programs, stop by the Siuslaw Public Library in person, call 541-997-3132 or visit www.siuslawlibrary.info.

Each year, law enforcement agencies throughout Oregon and the nation carry the "Flame of Hope" in support of the Special Olympics and to bring awareness to that cause. The event engages law enforcement personnel to champion the acceptance and inclusion of those with intellectual disabilities, through athletic empowerment and participation.

On Friday, July 6, U.S. Coast Guard Station Siuslaw River crew members ran over 21 miles on Highway 101 from Gardiner, Ore., and through the City of Florence, carrying the law enforcement torch for this leg of the relay.

The torch was received from members of Station Umpqua River, located in Winchester Bay, and was passed to members of Station Yaquina Bay, located in Newport, this week.

For the three-mile trek through Florence, beginning at the Siuslaw River Bridge and heading north, the crew was escorted by a Siuslaw Valley Fire and Rescue engine driven by Firefighter Rivas.

The 21-mile run was completed in two shifts, with one group running the portion from Gardiner to Florence and a second group running the final three miles through town.

USCG Chief Petty Officer Dan Nielsen, who organized local Coast Guard personnel to participate, ran the entire length of the 21-mile relay.

"I am honored to participate in and partner with the community for this event and thankful the unit was able to fit this into its schedule again this year, in support of the athletes competing in the Special Olympics," said Nielsen.

Participants included: From Gardiner to Florence (18 miles): BMC Dan Nielsen, BM3 Josh Bromund, MK3 Tyler Neyhart, SN Sarah Hayes, FN Andrew Kullman, SN Aiden Belevich, FN Kyle Kinzella and SA Robby Kelly. Special appearance by Piper.

Through Florence (3 miles): BMCS Jay Nilles, BMC Kevin Smith, BMC Dan Nielsen, MK1 Scott Harvey, MK2 Osburn and DC3 Rylan Burum.
