Joseph Akins

House Concert Series to feature two pianists Monday

Pianists Joseph Akins and Rachel LaFond will be performing in Kathy Parsons' MainlyPiano house concert series on Monday, July 16, at 7 p.m.

Award-winning pianist/composer Akins has released seven albums to date, several of which have received awards and nominations for Album of the Year by various music websites. He is a professor of music industry at Middle Tennessee University near Nashville.

LaFond grew up in Washington State and has released two solo piano albums to date. She and her husband have settled in New Zealand and the music from both albums reflects on their travels and adjustments to living in a different culture in another part of the world.

There is a suggested donation of $20 at the door, all of which will go to the artists.

The address and directions will be given when reservations are made.

Call Kathy at 541-999-9720 or email her at kathyplano@gmail.com to reserve seats.

Bastille Day Literary Salon celebrates authors

Writers on the River presents its next "Midnight in Florence" Literary Salon on Bastille Day, today, July 14, from 6:30 to 8:30 p.m., at the Florence Regional Arts Alliance (FRAA), 120 Maple St. in Historic Old Town Florence. Designed as convivial events like those in the film "Midnight in Paris," literary salons celebrate local writers and the literary arts.

Following the tradition of Gertrude Stein's infamous 1930s Parisian salons, the Bastille Day event will commemorate the works of three extraordinary authors — Anthony Bourdain, Tom Wolfe and Philip Roth — who recently passed within a 30-day span. Excerpts from their books will be shared in a special tribute.

An Open Mic follows, during which writers of all levels and genres are invited to read, recite or sing excerpts from their published or unpublished material. Those who wish to participate in the open mic must arrive at 6 p.m. to sign up. Reading slots are limited to five minutes on a first-come basis.

Hosted by FRAA creative writing instructor and award-winning journalist, columnist and author Catherine J. Rourke, the salon is free and open to the public.

A $5 donation is suggested to support FRAA for providing the space and refreshments.

"Literary salons inspire, unite and celebrate all writers while providing cultural enrichment and entertainment," Rourke said. "We are bringing the River Seine to the Siuslaw and the Left Bank to Bay Street; everyone is invited to join the fun."

Rourke will read an excerpt from her memoir, "Forgive Us Our Press Passes – Confessions of a Modern-Day Muckraker."

Writers on the River offers literary arts workshops and events as an opportunity for open exchange to support writers of all levels and genres on their journey.

Call 541-708-2120 or e-mail CJReditor@gmail.com to pre-register for the open mic or for more info.

OPB and FRAA present 'Hefty' art show all July

Florence Regional Arts Alliance (FRAA) is pleased to present the artwork of Robert E. Hefty in the lobby of Oregon Pacific Bank in Florence during the month of July.

"My interest in art has always been very strong, and I have primarily stayed with the 'non-objective' style of painting," Hefty said. "I try to design shapes, color and movement that provides a pleasing composition. In my works I also try to communicate something that cannot be said."

Hefty has a degree in music education, with a minor in art.

Artwork from Robert E. Hefty will be in the lobby of Oregon Pacific Bank, 1355 Highway 101, in Florence during the month of July.

He has worked in clay, oil painting, woodcarving and Works classes at Lane Community College.

Since his retirement in 1999, he has enjoyed taking Clay
