

THE RECORD

OBITUARIES

BROWN—Roy M. Brown, 83, passed away peacefully July 5, 2018, after a very sudden cancer diagnosis.

Roy Brown

Roy loved living in Florence, where he and his wife, Jeanie, moved to nine years ago after traveling around the country in their motorhome.

Roy was born in London,

England and after joining the RAF (Royal Air Force), he immigrated to Toronto, Canada. After three years, he then immigrated to America.

Roy always loved cars and motorbikes. He was a passionate and great tennis player and very much enjoyed traveling, meeting new friends, motor homing and loved all the sites along the way.

When he left Canada, he drove a brand new convertible Cadillac along Route 66 until he finally reached Southern California, where he lived for many years. It was also where his daughter, Lisa Brown, was born.

Roy worked in sales most of his life and, while selling you something you may or may not have needed, he also became your friend. He had the uncanny ability to make many of his friends feel like he was their best friend.

He was always available to help out, play a tennis match or a round of golf or was ready to invite you over for a meal and a few drinks — and especially a cup of tea and a chat.

In the early '70s, Roy moved to Santa Cruz, Calif., where he met the love of his life, Jeanie Raiser. Roy and Jeanie were the dynamic duo for 45 years and, together, they created a place where everyone wanted to be — whether it was at their home in Scotts Valley, the "Hacienda Ranch," or their homes in Oceanside, Bonsall and Florence, or on their road home.

Roy Brown, also known fondly as "Ye Ol' Bugga," was a mate to all, but especially to Dave, Scotty, Brett the Moose, Alfonso, Andre, Dick, Mick, two Freds, and Bob Smith; his list of friends is endless, just as is our love for him.

While Roy leaves a huge whole in our hearts, what he also leaves is the memory of his bright smile and a life well lived. He showed us by example how to love deeply, enjoy each moment and the true value of meaningful friendships.

Roy is survived by his wife, Jeanie Raiser of Florence; his daughter, Lisa Brown (John-Scott Forester) of Petaluma, Calif.; his daughter, Kit Brown (C. Jackson) of Oceanside, Calif.; his son, Chris Raiser, of Dana Point, Calif.; his sister, Yvonne Coleman (and John) of Kent, England; and many nieces, nephews, beloved family and BEST friends all over the world.

Please join us in celebrating Roy's very full and happy life on Saturday, Aug. 25, at the Ocean Dunes Golf Course, from 2 to 4 p.m.

In lieu of flowers, please consider donations in Roy's honor to the Huntington's Foundation or Hospice of Petaluma, Calif.

Burns' Riverside Chapel Florence Funeral Home was charge of arrangements.
