Patriot Place to host presentation on repeal of 'sanctuary' law tonight

Oregon voters, unlike any other state in the country, will have the opportunity to repeal its current "sanctuary" law. Learn about it tonight, Aug. 29, during a presentation from 6 to 8 p.m. at Patriot Place in Old Town Florence. Cynthia Kendoll, President of Oregonians for Immigration Reform, will speak on how voting "yes" on Measure 105 to repeal sanctuary law can change the current law in Oregon. In addition, there will be a candlelight remembrance held for Mollie Tibbetts, beginning at 6:05 p.m. The public is invited. Patriot Place is located at 175 Nopal in Florence. For more information, call 509-540-4880.

Community preparedness

On Saturday, hundreds of area residents turned out for the annual Disaster Preparedness Expo at the Florence Events Center. This year's focus was "Storm Readiness," with booths, speakers and classes aimed at helping citizens to be prepared in the event of a major storm. Keynote speaker was "Disaster" Dave Robinson, who is a disaster preparedness specialist and author (above left). Other speakers included SVFR Chief Director Jim Langborg, Florence Police Chief Tom Turner and Community Emergency Response Team (CERT) coordinator Frank Nulty (Top). In addition to information booths, attendees had the opportunity to take a suturing class (right), and the first 300 expo attendees received a free 2.5-gallon water container. The event was sponsored by Siuslaw News, Banner Bank, PeaceHealth, the City of Florence, Florence Police Department, Siuslaw Valley Fire & Rescue, Three Rivers Casino Resort, Florence Chamber of Commerce and state senator Arnie Roblan.
