

Justin Buckles Productions returns with 'Cabaret of the Dead' Oct. 19

"Cabaret of the Dead" is taking over the Florence Events Center on Friday, Oct. 19, for a night of ghoulish entertainment. The cabaret is from Justin Buckles Productions, the No. 1 event producer on the West Coast and Coos Bay native, who brought "Tease Burlesque Revue" to the Florence Events Center last February.

Featuring an all-star cast that's sure to delight, fright and make you really get into the Halloween spirit, "Cabaret of the Dead" features burlesque, drag, comedy, dance, live singing and so much more.

Doors to the Florence Events Center, 715 Quince St., open at 6:30 p.m. and the show starts at 7 p.m.

Tickets are $15.50 and can be purchased at www.event-center.org, by calling 541-997-1994, in person at the events center or at the doors the day of the show. Attendees must be 18 and over to attend.

Creator Justin Buckles has nearly 20 years of experience in film, television and live event production after living in Los Angeles and working on such shows as American Idol, So You Think You Can Dance, Gene Simmons Family Jewels and several other

The production will feature Halloween-themed burlesque among other acts during the Oct. 19 show at the Florence Events Center productions.

Buckles is the creator, manager and executive producer for all Justin Buckles Productions events, which tour 20 states and Canada, producing 250+ shows a year.

“Get ready for a show unlike anything you’ve seen,” Buckles said. “My shows are very interactive and audience driven. We will be down in the crowd, we will bring people up on stage, we will be showing a lot of skin, and we will have something for everyone. This will be a fantastic show filled with oohs, aahs and things that will blow your mind. This is not your regular cabaret show, this is 'Cabaret of the Dead.'"

Mayor to proclaim National Arts & Humanities Month

National Arts and Humanities Month (NAHM) was established over 30 years ago by the Americans for the Arts Foundation. It focuses on the arts at the local, state and national levels, and encourages individuals and organizations to participate in the arts.

It also allows governments and businesses to show their support of the arts by raising public awareness about the role the arts and humanities play in communities.

On Monday, Oct. 22, at 5:30 p.m. at the Florence Event Center, Florence Mayor Joe Henry will be making a proclamation for National Arts and Humanities Month.

The Public Art Committee's (PAC) work has centered around the mural that it's commissioning for the Central Lincoln PUD Building, which faces Highway 126.

The PAC made a call to artists all over the world in August and received more than 100 submissions. The submissions will be narrowed down from 100 to 12 by the mural's subcommittee. Once that is accomplished, the Public Art Committee will choose three artists it would like to see more of and will provide a limited stipend to create the artist's vision for the mural.

Once the proposals are received, the selection committee will convene.

The Mural Selection Committee will be comprised of members of the mural subcommittee as well as members of the community and representatives from Central Lincoln PUD. The selection committee will then choose one artist who will install the mural during the Spring of 2019.

The Public Arts Committee has completed eight projects in the last 15 months and is looking for volunteers to help with the selection committees and subcommittees or the monetary donations.
