A crashed vehicle sits on display at the entrance to Siuslaw High School as a reminder of the dangers of distracted driving.

Distracted driving educational display at high school

The Siuslaw School Resource Officer has setup an educational display that includes a previously crashed vehicle at the entrance of the Siuslaw High School.

The purpose of the vehicle is to educate students on the dangers of driving under the influence and distracted driving. The vehicle was involved in a crash of which distracted driving was a contributing factor.

The crashed SUV went on display along with an educational banner last week and will remain there through

Dec. 11. The location of the crashed vehicle is of high visibility in the hopes that it will deter and educate students and community members on the potential ramifications of distracted driving.

The Florence Police Department and the Siuslaw School

District Administration have approved the placing of the vehicle.

The educational crashed vehicle did not belong to anyone local and was donated by Mast Bros. Towing and Recovery.
