

THE RECORD

OBITUARIES

DUNN—Norma “Jean” Dunn, 89, passed away Dec. 4, 2018.

Norma Dunn

She died at Regency Care Center of natural causes.

She had recently sustained a fall at home that fractured her right arm and pelvis.

She and her husband of 61 years, Lloyd, moved to Florence in 1962. Lloyd was a timber faller and Jean was a homemaker, but they both loved to fish. Eventually, Lloyd gave up the timber industry for commercial fishing and from that time on they worked together. After having a couple of smaller cabin cruisers, they undertook the task of building their own boat made of ferro cement.

It was a 38-ft vessel named the “Sea Star.”

Jean always had some sort of project in front of her; usually stitchery. She’s made more doilies, tablecloths, quilts and handywork than can be counted. More recently her favorite thing was jigsaw puzzles, usually 1,000-piece sets. But she was always thinking of her flowers, inside and outside the house.

She had the greenest thumb in the world.

Jean was the eldest of six girls. She, along with her parents, Fred and Mary Ellen Ray, moved to Oregon from Nebraska when Jean was six years old. She was raised in Independence, Ore.

She is survived by two of her sisters: Betty King of Independence, Ore., and Alice Parkison of Turner, Ore.; sister-in-law, Mary Richards and husband Max from Monmouth, Ore.

Jean was the mother of three children: David Dunn of Florence, Debra (Dunn) Trammel of Lakeside, Ore., and Ken Dunn of Salem, Ore.

She had four grandchildren: Rick Trammel of Sisters, Ore., Rod Trammel of Cottage Grove, Ore., Dave Dunn Jr. of Waipahu, Hawaii, and Stacey Galvin of Salem, Ore.

Jean had 10 great-grandchildren: Jessica Mortimer of Menan, Id., Mackenzie Filmore of Sisters, Ore., Willie Dunn of Waipahu, Hawaii, Taylor Trammel of Corvallis, Ore., Violet Trammel of Salem, Ore., Revel Trammel of Cottage Grove, Ore., and Aiden, Kaleb, Brice and Addison Galvin of Salem.

Jean was very proud to be a great-great-grandmother of four: Scarlett, Jane, Rulon and Merritt Mortimer of Menan, Id.

Family meant everything to Jean and she loved every opportunity that presented itself to come together.

Her funeral service was held Friday, Dec. 7, at 1 p.m., at Burns’s Riverside Chapel, 2765 Kingwood St. in Florence, and was open for the public to attend.

Special thanks to the staff at Peace Harbor Hospital, Regency Care Center and Burns’s Riverside Chapel for their genuine love and care.

Jean will be missed by her family, neighbors and friends. She was a wonderful example to us of how to live a simple, hard-working life, to take care of others and the most important things in life.

She believed in God and His Son, Jesus Christ. She and Lloyd used to attend the Four-square Church in Florence before his passing in 2007.

Burns’s Riverside Chapel Florence Funeral Home was in charge of arrangements.

CRADDOCK—David Craddock, aka “Smilin’ Dave Piano Man,” 89, passed away Nov. 12, 2018.

David was born in San Francisco, Calif., on June 6, 1929. The piano lessons he took at age 7 opened him to his God-given talent. He was an entertainer extraordinaire, creating magic through his fingers, bringing joy and wonder to those who heard him in lounges in the San Francisco Bay Area for well over 30 years before settling in Florence in 2001.

David was a part of the entertainment scene up and down Bay Street in Old Town until around 2015, as both a soloist and as part of the Juke Box Kings band.

He is survived by his loving wife of 44 years, Jude Craddock; his children: Dave Craddock, Jr., of Las Vegas, Nev., Fred Craddock (spouse Debra Craddock) Pleasant Hill, Ore., and Nancy Lauren Bridges Craddock of Forman, Ark.; step-children: Jeana Le Clerc (spouse Michel LeClerc) of Redding, Calif., Kristen Eaton (spouse Darren Eaton) of Jamestown, Calif., and Joel Schilling (spouse Michelle Schilling) of Quincy, Calif.

The music lives on in the man; the man lives on in the music.

AUDISS—Elaine H. Audiss, 82, passed away at 5 a.m. on Nov. 25, 2018, and went home to Heaven to be with her Jesus.

She is survived by her husband, Gene M. Audiss; her daughter, Debra L Ward; her son, William Meyers; and several grandchildren and great-grandchildren.

“She speaketh not, and yet there lies a conversation in her eyes.”

(A quote from her high school yearbook)

“Momomy” (pronounced m a - m a - my) was the name given to her by her first granddaughter, born on her birthday.

Momomy was always very loving, caring and nurturing and always thought of others before herself. She raised her children to be responsible and have faith in God; always.

Elaine Audiss

Her legacy is that Jesus has been by her side all throughout her life, and she is now home in Heaven with Him.

We all love you so much, Momomy, and you will be greatly missed by all you have come in contact with.

SIMMONS—Arlene L. Simmons, 77, of Florence, passed away Nov. 25, 2018.

Burns’s Riverside Chapel Florence Funeral Home was in charge of arrangements.

JENSEN—Fred L. Jensen, 89, of Florence, passed away Dec. 3, 2018.

Burns’s Riverside Chapel Florence Funeral Home was in charge of arrangements.
