Local agencies team up to help Coast Guard

New Life Lutheran Church and Florence Food Share, a local food distribution agency, teamed up to raise funds for the local Coast Guard personnel, working without pay during the recent government shutdown.

In one week of fundraising, the church raised $1,650. The donations went to the Chief Petty Officers Association to be dispersed to Station Siuslaw.

As the shutdown has ended for the moment, the church has ended fundraising.

New Life Lutheran is a small congregation made up of mostly older members, many of which are military veterans.

“The people at Siuslaw River Station are our people, and we want them to know we stand with them in the same way they stand with us,” said New Life Lutheran Pastor John Maas. “We provided the financial assistance, and Food Share helped make the connection with the Guard Station.”

New Life Lutheran Church is at 2100 Spruce St. in Florence.

Members of Three Rivers Casino Resort recently matched a $2,500 donation made by the Confederated Tribes, to help members of the Coast Guard-Siuslaw Station during the recent government shutdown.

Three Rivers, Confederated Tribes donate to Coast Guard

Three Rivers Casino Resort is matching the Confederated Tribes of Coos, Lower Umpqua and Siuslaw Indians' donation to the United States Coast Guard for a total donation of $5,000.

A check for $2,500 was dropped off at the Siuslaw News specifically for Station Siuslaw River's fund through the Coast Guard's nonprofit Chief Petty Officers Association. The Confederated Tribes will be giving their check to the North Bend Station of the Coast Guard.

“Even though the government reached a deal to reopen earlier today, the Tribes and the casino are both committed to our local men and service women,” said Rich Colton, Three Rivers Casino Marketing Director. “We appreciate what the United States Coast Guard does for us all here on the Oregon coast. We are honored that at this time we can support them.”

Three Rivers was initially opened as a casino-only facility in 2004 and was expanded into a full-service resort including the adjoining hotel in 2007. Owned and operated by the Confederated Tribes of the Coos, Lower Umpqua, and Siuslaw Indians, Three Rivers Casino Resort has strong ties to the communities along the Central Oregon Coast. For more information, visit threeiverscasino.com.

The Confederated Tribes of Coos, Lower Umpqua and Siuslaw Indians are made up of three tribes (four bands): two bands of Coos Tribes, the Hanis Coos (Coos Proper) and Miluk Coos; Lower Umpqua Tribe; and Siuslaw Tribe. The tribes trace their ancestry back to the aboriginal inhabitants of the South-Central coast of Oregon.

City Club to hear about coastal conservation

City Club of Florence will meet Thursday, Feb. 7, from noon to 1 p.m., at Ocean Dunes Golf Links, 3345 Munsel Lake Road.

Attendees will hear about the natural wonders of Oregon's complex marine food web when Paul Engelmeyer, a respected coastal conservation voice, will speak about “Coastal Conservation Issues and Strategies, and the Land-Sea Connection.”

Engelmeyer will talk about efforts to protect forage fish — the prey base for seabirds

— as well as the unique habitat requirements for the ESA listed Marbled Murrelet.

He has managed lands for The Wetlands Conservancy located in Alsea Bay, Beaver Creek and Yaquina Bay. Landscape conservation efforts and partnership will be discussed.

Engelmeyer will be drawing upon his years of experience managing the Ten Mile Creek Sanctuary (located near Yachats) for the Audubon Society of Portland and on his service on Oregon's Ocean Policy Advisory Council (OPAC), which has developed a system of marine reserves and protected areas for Oregon's coast.

The presentation will include information about the Wetlands Conservancy parcels in Alsea Bay, Beaver Creek and Yaquina Bay, as well as the designated Globally Significant Central Coast Marbled Murrelet Important Bird Area (IBA), which extends over 100,000 acres from north of Yachats basin to south of Heceta Head. He will also share how the Marine IBA effort includes partners from Baja to Barrow, Alaska.

Engelmeyer's update will include the current status of Oregon's five marine reserves as well as the Cape Perpetua Marine Reserve and Seabird Protected Area.

Engelmeyer has decades of experience working in partnership to achieve conservation goals, including the Siuslaw Forest Stewardship groups, which received the 2010 Two Chief's Partnership Award. This award is presented annually to a handful of projects by the Chiefs of the U.S. Forest Service and the USDA Natural Resources Conservation Service (NRCS) to recognize exemplary efforts working across both public and private lands to promote conservation and forest stewardship.

City Club meets the first Thursday of the month at Ocean Dunes. Limited lunch options are available to purchase prior to the meetings.
