Siuslaw Watershed Council to offer non-native plant management tips

On Wednesday, Feb. 27, the Siuslaw Watershed Council will host a meeting to share how residents can help manage non-native invasive species throughout the Siuslaw Watershed.

Armand Rebeschke from the Siuslaw National Forest will give a talk about integrated weed management and managing invasive species. Rich Peterson from the Siuslaw Watershed Council will follow to discuss the tools of the job and some helpful hints on maintaining equipment for managing non-native species and some of the work he does throughout the watershed.

There will also be some other important updates from the Siuslaw Watershed Council (SWSC) as well as information from the OSU extension office on managing non-native species.

The meeting will be held at 10868 E. Mapleton Rd. in Mapleton, from 5:30 to 7:30 p.m.

This will be an informative meeting, open to the public, especially for those who recently received free native plants from the SWSC.

Come learn how to ensure those plants thrive and grow to their full ecological potential.

Military Museum explores Oregon's Civil War connection Feb. 23

The next Military Heritage Day for the Oregon Coast Military Museum is Saturday, Feb. 23, at 2 p.m. at the Florence Municipal Airport on Kingwood Street. Board Member Dave Burkett will be sharing his knowledge as a Civil War Living Historian — with a focus on Oregon's connection and the Civil War.

"While none of the battles from the war between the states took place here in Oregon, that doesn't mean Oregon didn't feel the impacts from that war," said Executive Director Cal Applebee.

Burkett will share his story on this element as well as some of the more personal connections between Oregon and several Civil War personalities.

There is no charge for attending the presentation.

The museum, located at 2145 Kingwood St. in Florence, is open to the public Wednesday through Sunday, from noon to 4 p.m.
