Two workshops being offered to explain new Medicare options for 2019

The public is invited to a free 40-minute workshop presented by Florence resident and “Retirement Specialist” Ralph Ray, offered twice on Tuesday, March 26, at 11 a.m. and 4 p.m. at the Siuslaw Public Library in Florence, 1460 Ninth St.

The purpose of these presentations is to explain the sometimes confusing and complicated federal healthcare regulations to those turning 65, as well as older retirees and to veterans who feel that they are paying too much.

Ray will discuss the major differences in the types of Medicare as well as the new Medicare choices available in Lane County.

Ray will also go “beyond Medicare” to provide information on what Medicare does not cover.

“As we age, chronic conditions can overwhelm families, which causes many to require skilled nursing care in a Long-Term Care (LTC) institutional facility,” said Ray, who has worked in a LTC facility. “Many of us need only to have a little extra help with activities of daily living to be able to stay at home.”

This new model, called “aging in place” or “at home healthcare,” helps to delay the need for leaving a home.

“We all deserve to live at home, and this may be a wonderful option for you,” Ray said.

Everyone is invited to come to this presentation for more information.
