Port Hole authors named International Book Awards Finalists

Two authors published by Port Hole Publishing in Florence have placed as finalists in the 2018 International Book Awards competition. Ned Hickson, author of “Pearls of Writing Wisdom: From 16 Shucking Years as a Columnist,” and Reverend David B. Fenwick, author of “Jesus – His Story: The Integrated Life of Christ,” placed in their categories.

Hickson, who has published two books with Port Hole, is an award winning columnist with a blog following of thousands, and is the editor of the Siuslaw News.

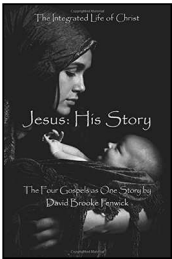

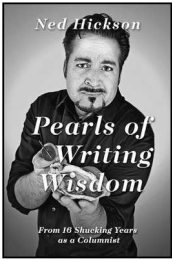

Fenwick, of Los Angeles, Calif., served for 45 years as a pastor and teacher, founded a Christian school in East L.A., and served the General Missionary Board of the Free Methodist Church of North America as Mission Superintendent over Latino churches. He is now retired.

The International Book Awards (IBA), in its 10th year, provides a venue for writers to compete with talented authors throughout the world. IBA enlists expert judges in numerous genres to select finalists and winners, as a promotional vehicle for authors and publishers. As part of the American Book Fest, IBA states that it “celebrates the written word in all genres, fiction and non-fiction.”

“We are very proud of all of our authors,” says publisher Ellen Traylor, “and especially of those who achieve honors such as this.”

Heceta Head Lightstation celebrates 125 years of lighting up the Oregon coast

Heceta Head Lightstation will be celebrating its 125-year anniversary on Saturday, March 30, from 4 to 7 p.m. The iconic 56-foot Heceta Head Lighthouse is known as the most photographed lighthouse in America.

The community is invited to celebrate at the light station, which has a scenic walking trail that leads up to The Keeper’s House, Gift Shop and lighthouse. This family-friendly free event will mainly take place at the Heceta Lighthouse Bed & Breakfast. The U.S. Coast Guard will kick off the event at 4:30 p.m. with an opening ceremony.

Hot dogs, refreshments and birthday cupcakes will be provided, as well as live music and lawn games (weather permitting). Local agency representatives will be present to talk to about the outstanding natural features of the area as well as docents from the Heceta Lighthouse Interpretive Center at the Keeper’s House and Oregon State Park docents at the lighthouse.

Plus, the local Siuslaw Pioneer Museum’s Heritage Players will transport you back in time and will be dressed up in period wear.

The lightstation’s first order Fresnel lens has been the brightest light shining upon the Oregon Coastline reaching out some twenty-one miles for well over a century. It has warned sea-faring mariners of the shallow reef alongside the massive headland and served as a U.S. Coast Guard station, protecting the region during World War II.

The Heceta Head Lighthouse and Light Keeper’s home are circa 1894 and both are listed on the National Register of Historic Places.

The Heceta Lighthouse Bed & Breakfast operates in the historic keeper’s house, which has been a home to dozens of dedicated lightkeepers and their families and is one of the only remaining beautifully preserved Queen Ann-style lightkeeper’s homes in the nation. The first floor also serves as an interpretive center.

The park is located off Highway 101 just 13 miles north of Florence. Parking is available at the Heceta Head Lighthouse State Scenic View Point, with parking for $5 per vehicle.

Ongoing complimentary shuttle service is provided to and from the state park parking lot to the celebration site for those who don’t wish to take the trail.

Special thanks goes to Oregon Pacific Bank as host sponsor and event sponsors: Sea Lion Caves, Korando Dental, Windermere Real Estate/Lane County, Taylor Sausages, NW Adventures Quest, Destination Events, Central Coast Amateur Radio Club, Heceta Lighthouse Bed & Breakfast, Oregon State Parks and the US Forest Service.

Friends of Yachats Library holds annual book sale March 29–30

You can stock up on books, music CDs, puzzles and audio books while contributing to the literary health of Yachats, at the upcoming Friends of Yachats Library Book Sale. This year’s sale will be open from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. on Friday, March 29, and Saturday, March 30, at the Yachats Commons, W. Fourth St. and Highway 101.

Bargain hunters, dealers and book lovers take note — there will be hundreds of almost new, gently used, old treasures, mysteries, cookbooks, gardening books, fiction, nonfiction, children’s books, biography, travel, history and humor in hardcover and paperback.

Browsing is easy with all books arranged by categories.

There is a specially priced section including rare books, signed copies, book sets and coffee table books. The sale also includes DVD’s and music CD’s priced at $1 each, puzzles for $2 each, and audio books for $3. The purple Yachats Library cloth bags can be purchased for $2.

Saturday is bag day. Bring your old Library bag (black, teal or purple) or newly purchased purple Yachats Library bag and fill it for $3.

Hundreds of books will be part of the Friends of Yachats Library’s annual book sale.

Proceeds from the sale will help support the library renovation project and daily running of all programs. If you love to read you will want to be at this sale.

Credit cards, cash and local checks will be accepted.

In addition, the 30-plus members of the Yachats Arts Guild will have some of their work on display and for sale during the book sale. The Yachats Arts Guild has been a growing group since its original 7 founders in 2007. Its mission is to support and promote Central Oregon Coast artists and to call attention to the beauty of the Oregon Coast. Here is your chance to admire our local artists, learn more about the guild and add to your collection.

The Volunteer Library Staff will have coffee/tea and home baked goodies available in the Commons kitchen during the sale. All proceeds from the refreshment sales will support library programs.

For more info, call 541-547-3741 or go to friendsofyachatslibrary.org.
