Volunteers needed Saturday to stack firewood with Kiwanis

Florence Kiwanis Club is having a wood stacking work day at Florence Municipal Airport on Saturday, April 13, from 9 a.m. to 2 p.m. All are welcome to help for any time they can.

“In our firewood program, we collect firewood and logs from different places in the community, then we cut and split them, and they are available to be delivered at no cost to needy families who depend on firewood as a primary source of heat,” said Florence Kiwanis President Dick Shores.

While the club is open to collecting additional firewood, it first needs to stack the wood already at the airport. This Saturday, volunteers will be there for the entire time stacking wood.

Thanks to Lil Walts Woods, there is no chainsaw, wood splitter or ax work to be done. Woods will bring a wood processor to cut and split the wood for the volunteers to stack.

Kiwanis is providing bottled water and hot dogs for the volunteers. People are asked to bring work gloves.

Those attending should enter the Florence Municipal Airport, 2001 Airport Lane, from the main entrance and head north on the gravel road. The wood is located at the north end of the airport property.

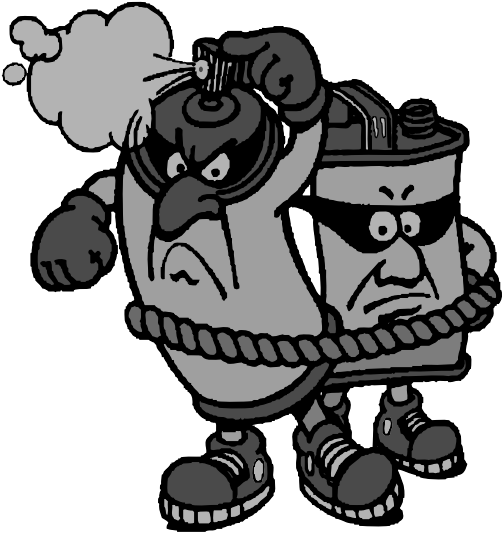

The Kiwanis Firewood Program intends to start delivering wood later this year.

For more information, attend the weekly Kiwanis noon luncheon on Wednesday at Ocean Dunes Golf Links or visit www.florencekiwanis.org.

Head Start Florence recently had a visit from Florence Police Department’s School Resource Officer Brandon Bailey. Officer Bailey spoke to both the morning and afternoon (pictured) classes about safety and what number to call in case of an emergency.

It’s About Time Productions presents ‘Murder on the Oriental Rug’

Move over — or roll over — Agatha Christie! It’s About Time Productions is about to unveil a mystery dinner show that spoofs old-fashioned whodunits, the medical profession, “female problems” and theater folks with “Murder on the Oriental Rug.”

Penned by Tony Schwartz and Marylou Ambrose, the show is a play within a play. When half of the cast of “Murder on the Oriental Rug” bails out, the remaining performers are stuck playing all the roles. During the first act, you’ll meet a Shakespearean actor with a drinking problem, a washed-up former child star, a bimbo with a short memory, and a hapless costumer who finds herself onstage — playing a man.

During the play within a play, you’ll visit the exclusive clinic of Dr. Charles Ovary, renowned hot flash specialist who’s secretly treating a famous actress trying desperately to regain her youth. You’ll get to know the doctor’s clueless wife, his pas-

Will another murder occur?

Before the evening’s over, someone else will be ruthlessly murdered, and it’s up to the audience to solve the crime. Winners will be drawn from those who correctly guess the murderer and motive.

The curtain rises for one night only on Friday, April 27, at the Florence Elks Lodge, 1686 12th St.

What can you expect from an audience participation murder mystery? Fun the minute you walk in the door! Doors open at 5:30 p.m., when you’ll get a chance to have a cocktail, if you desire, and mingle. At 6 p.m., attendees will enjoy a delicious dinner. The show starts after dinner, around 7 p.m.

Tickets for the dinner and show are $45. For information and reservations, call 541-999-9392 or 541-999-3027. Reservations must be made in advance.

Elk membership is not required.

34th annual Early Rhododendron Show opens Saturday

Rhodies, Rhodies everywhere and all for us to see!

This year’s annual Early Rhododendron Show should be very interesting for local rhododendron enthusiasts. With the recent wind, rain, drought, heat, cold, sleet, snow — only the hardiest, most tenacious flowers will shine bright in April.

The show is open to anyone who would like to share their beautiful trusses with the world and possibly go home with a ribbon or trophy. A few guidelines to follow: select a truss that is as completely open as possible; try to find the straightest stem; bug bites are not our favorite design, but sometimes we can’t avoid them; wipe any dust or dirt from the leaves with water only and remember, everyone has had the same weather as you. Don’t worry about them being perfect. The more, the merrier.

If you would like to enter, bring your flowers to the Florence Events Center, 715 Quince St., between 7 and 9 a.m. Saturday, April 13. Our knowledgeable garden nymphs will help with the proper category placement.

Judging will commence at 9 a.m. Saturday and the viewing will be as soon as the judging is finished; usually around noon. Doors close Saturday at 5 p.m. and will open at 10 a.m. Sunday, April 14, until 5 p.m.

Please join us and see why Florence is called the City of Rhododendrons. Admission is free.

Beautiful plants will also be available at the show from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. each day.

If you have any questions, call Day Farrauld at 541-590-3161.
