Peanut Butter Drivers

On Friday, the annual Ford Peanut Butter Drive finished with a final push from Johnston Motor Company with Brian Johnston, along with Lisa Fassler and Brian Barnard of Grocery Outlet, adding 150 pounds of peanut butter to the public donations collected for Florence Food Share. The peanut butter goes to help families and children during the summer months when kids are out of school. (courtesy photo)

Oregon Coast Military Museum to celebrate Jeep

To celebrate the birth of the iconic Jeep vehicle from WWII, the Oregon Coast Military Museum (OCMM) is hosting its third annual "Jeep Junction" show & shine Saturday June 15 at Johnston Motor Co., located at 2150 Highway 101. The show starts at 10 a.m. and ends at 2 p.m. and is open to any military jeep, vintage CJ through current model of Wrangler.

"Of all the transportation advancements coming out of WWII, the legendary Jeep has probably made more impact on society because it is still being produced 78 years later, and not just here in the United States but in other countries around the world," said OCMM Executive Director Cal Applebee. "This show is intended to not just celebrate its creation, but also celebrate the icon that is today."

Jeep owners can register onsite the morning of the event, and the first 25 registrants will receive a goodie bag. The show opens to the public at 10 a.m. but participants should plan to register starting at 9 a.m.

The Florence-Siuslaw Lions Club will have its food cart on hand. The event is sponsored by Johnston Motor Company and Tony's Garage.

"One of the reasons we wanted to partner with Johnston Motor Company is that Ford Motor Company produced nearly half of the military Jeeps during WWII, and we'll have some outstanding restored examples of those on display throughout the week in their showroom and at the event," Applebee explained.

The museum is located at 2145 Kingwood Street in Florence, and open to the public Wednesday through Sunday, from noon to 4 p.m.

Art, music summer camp to be held at Dragon Art

Local teachers Amanda Smith and Kassy Keppol are teaming up to run the Music and Art Camp in June. Smith is the music teacher at Siuslaw Elementary school and Keppol is the English Language teacher for the district. Keppol also owns Dragon Art, a gallery where the camp will take place.

While Dragon Art will be running camps all summer, Music and Art Camp will be especially unique, with instruction from both teachers. During this week-long camp, Keppol will work with students on building, crafting and creating their own instruments; Smith will work with students on how to play the instruments the kids have made.

Dragon Art has held an instrument making camp before, but this year teaming up with a musician the instruments will get more use than ever before.

Music and Art Camp will be held June 24 through 28.

There will be two sessions offered: one from 10 a.m. to 1 p.m., and one from 2 p.m. to 5 p.m.

Tuition is $135 per session and includes all of the materials and instruments, as well as a camp shirt.

Advanced registration is required, as seating is limited. For more information, contact Keppol at kkeppol@gmail.com or visit www.kassykeppol.com.
