Lane County Sheriff issues scam alert

Phone scammers are at it again. The Lane County Sheriff's Office has received several reports from community members who have received calls from scammers pretending to be Sheriff's Office employees. Scammers are telling community members they have a warrant for their arrest and can pay a fine or fee to clear the warrant.

These calls are a scam.

Scammers often ask for payment in the form of gift cards or cash cards to remedy a fictitious warrant for missing jury duty or unpaid parking tickets. The Lane County Sheriff's Office does not make phone calls to community members regarding warrants and would never ask a community member to purchase "cash cards" to pay fees.

These calls are a scam, and community members should hang up immediately and not engage with the caller. Help us stop these scammers from victimizing others by telling your friends and family about these scam calls so they recognize the call for what it is and hang up.

If you are the victim of a phone scam and have lost money as a result of the scam, please report it to your local law enforcement agency. If you did not lose any money, you do not need to call and report it. Below are some tips to decrease your chances of becoming a phone scam victim:

If you receive a call that you believe is a scam, STOP, and take a minute to think. If you are still unsure, hang up and call the person back at the publicly listed number for that agency.

Never provide personal information to callers, including your name, address or banking information.

Be aware of callers who are unprofessional, pushy or use scare tactics such as threatening arrest if payment is not made.

Callers asking for payment through wire transfer, cash cards such as green dot cards or other non-trackable methods are signs of a scam. Legitimate government agencies will not ask you to provide payment using these methods.

Do check the caller's information. If they claim to be from a law enforcement agency or other governmental agency, call the publicly listed phone number for that agency to verify the caller's authenticity.

Scammers have used the names of actual Sheriff's Office employees in the past so simply verifying that the agency has someone with that name doesn't mean it isn't a scam.

Community members can also report fraud to the Oregon Attorney General's Consumer Hotline by calling 1-877-877-9392.

Sheriff's office offers disaster preparedness tips

Prepare for the Next Quake or Tsunami. Some people think it is not worth preparing for an earthquake or tsunami because whether you survive or not is up to chance.

However, most Oregon buildings will survive even a large earthquake, and so will you, especially if you follow these simple response guidelines and start preparing today.

If you know how to recognize the warning signs of a tsunami and understand what to do, you will survive that too, but you need to know what to do ahead of time. Government agencies and other emergency organizations cannot protect you from the next earthquake or tsunami.

Even under the best of circumstances, medical aid or fire and law enforcement officials may not be able to reach you for many hours or even days. It is our responsibility as individuals, neighborhoods and communities to reduce risks, to prepare for the critical period immediately after the earthquake and to make sure that planning for earthquakes and tsunamis has the high priority it deserves.

By becoming informed, we can take actions to protect ourselves, reduce losses and recover quickly.

Earthquake Preparation—Cascadia Subduction Zone or On-Shore Earthquakes:

- Anchor and secure heavy appliances, furniture and glass objects to wall studs and/or other furniture items.
- Know how to turn off water, gas and electricity and have the tools needed to do so.
- Tie a bag next to your bed with shoes, extra glasses, gloves, poncho, flashlight or headlamp so you are ready to evacuate once the shaking stops.
- Have a three to five-day kit in your car in case you need to use it as a place of shelter until the aftershocks subside.

Earthquake Response—If you feel an earthquake

- Drop, cover and hold on until after the shaking stops, then evacuate outside to survey damages to the building.
- If indoors, get under a sturdy table, hold on and be prepared to move with the table.
- If in bed, stay in the bed and protect your head with a pillow.
- If outdoors, find a clear spot away from buildings and trees and stay until the shaking stops.
- If in a vehicle, pull over to a clear location until shaking stops.

- Expect and be ready for aftershocks that could last for days after the main shock.

Tsunami Preparedness and Response

A tsunami is a series of sea waves, usually caused by a displacement of ocean floor by an undersea earthquake.

- When at the coast, know the distant and local tsunami evacuation routes for low lying areas; look for educational signs at beach entry areas and tsunami assembly area points.
- Do not return until the alert has been canceled and emergency officials have advised that it's safe to return.
