Yachats River Valley Farm Tour set for Saturday

Seven Yachats River Valley farms will open their gates from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. Saturday, Aug. 10, to the public for tours and sale of locally produced farm products. Tour takers can expect to see cattle — including the famous Oreo Cows — llamas, alpacas, peacocks, horses, chickens and geese among the livestock.

For sale there will be grass-fed beef, plants, peacock feathers, home-baked goods, jams, garden produce and berries. Be sure to visit the many cactus greenhouses with their amazing varieties of cacti — one of the best collections in the country.

To reach these farms, turn off Highway 101 onto the Yachats River Road near the south end of Yachats and watch for signs indicating which farms are participating. The first farm will be near milepost 1 and the last farm at milepost 11.

Visitors are invited to bring a picnic lunch and stay awhile. Refreshments will be available at several sites.

Visitors to the Yachats River Valley Farm Tour will get to view livestock, gardens, greenhouses and barns on an 11-mile stretch of Yachats River Road. People are invited to bring picnics and relax for a while.

An added feature at The Ranch, 10740 Yachats River Road, the last stop on the tour, will be a concert by the Oregon Coast Recorder Society beginning at 11 a.m. Music will range from the pre-Baroque to modern and will be played on recorders, gemshorns and guitar.
