

*Life, love, jobs, girls—
the stories a tie could tell!
Memories, aromas, destinations, a tie has experienced them all.
As you read about my journey,
may you remember some of your own— and smile.
Regards, Beau Tye*

In You Can't Have It All, Coos Bay poet Annis Cassells navigates the sometimes sparkling, sometimes treacherous waters of family, identity, migration, and politics and in the process shows us both how to hold on and how to let go.
"So many poets write like they're afraid someone might understand them. These poems want to be read." —M.W.

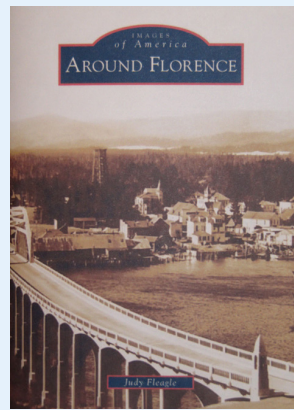

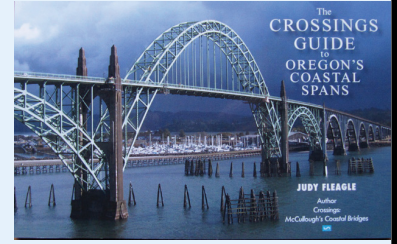

Annis Cassells is a writer, teacher, and life coach. Her stories and poems have appeared in online and print journals and magazines. You Can't Have It All is her first collection.

--Pacific Publishing

The Crossings Guide to Oregon's Coastal Spans, $15. Travel the coast from bridge to bridge—full-page color photos. Don't travel 101 without it. Put in your backpack or keep in your glove compartment. Makes a great souvenir.
--Pacific Publishing

Around Florence, $21.99. The history of Florence from 1876 to the present is told through 184 photos, most of which are historic and from the Siuslaw Pioneer Museum. Makes a great gift for newcomers to the area.
--Arcadia Publishing, Images of America series

Devil Cat and Other Colorful Animals I Have Known, $24.95. Five amazing animal stories of which four are of rescue animals that made great pets. Written as they actually occurred, these stories form a memoir of the author's life as seen through her most remarkable pets. Great illustrations by local artist Karen D. Nichols.
--Pacific Publishing

The Oregon Coast Guide to the UNEXPECTED, $20. Twenty-six definitely odd, most unusual, and truly quirky locales on the Oregon coast, from Astoria to near California state line. Some man-made, some created by nature or show nature in action. But all are unexpected!
--Maple Creek Press (formerly Pacific Publishing)

"Set in the 1980s in the rural community of Bidarkee Bay, Alaska, a fictional area the size of a small state with a population of barely 20,000, Wander is the story of Patrice "Pete" Nash, a young broadcast reporter who finds herself facing the winter alone after her husband, Nate, accepts a job on "the slope." As Pete pursues the next big breaking news story, she strikes up a friendship with the new guy in town, the Ivy League-educated Ren, who recites poetry and lives in the family-owned, vacant inn. Their friendship offers a glimpse of a different kind of life - one that seems to Pete to offer everything marriage to the country-raised Nate does not. But unbeknownst to Pete, Ren has come to Alaska for his own dark reasons - to end his life. By the time, Nate returns home, their lives have been irrevocably changed. One man is dead, two others missing and a third forever lost to them."

2017 Winner of the Nancy Pearl Literary Award & finalist in the International Book Awards for new fiction.
