Book Review
“Lights All Night Long”
by Lydia Fitzpatrick

Fifteen-year-old Ilya arrives in Louisiana from his native Russia for what should be the adventure of his life: a year in America as an exchange student. The abundance of this new world — the Super Walmarts, heated pools and enormous televisions — is as hard to fathom as the relentless cheerfulness of his host parents. And Sadie, their beautiful and enigmatic daughter, has miraculously taken an interest in him.

But all is not right in Ilya’s world: he’s consumed by the fate of his older brother, Vladimir, the magnetic rebel to Ilya’s dutiful wunderkind, back in their tiny Russian hometown. The two have always been close, spending their days dreaming of escaping to America. But when Ilya was tapped for the exchange, Vladimir disappeared into their town’s seedy, drug-plagued underworld.

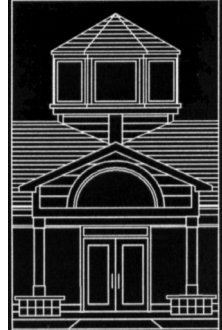

Just before Ilya left, the murders of three young women rock the town’s usual calm, and Vladimir found himself in prison. With the help of Sadie, who has secrets of her own, Ilya embarks on a mission to prove Vladimir’s innocence. Piecing together the timeline of the murders and Vladimir’s descent into addiction, Ilya discovers the radical lengths to which Vladimir has gone to protect him — a truth he could only have learned by leaving him behind.

A rich tale of belonging and the pull of homes both native and adopted, “Lights All Night Long” by Lydia Fitzpatrick is a spellbinding story of the fierce bond between brothers determined to find a way back to each other.

While this is Fitzpatrick’s first novel, her short stories have appeared in “The O. Henry Prize Stories,” “The Best American Mystery Stories,” “Glimmer Train” and elsewhere. She was a Wallace Stegner Fellow at Stanford and a Fiction Fellow at the Wisconsin Institute of Creative Writing.

Library Closure — Mark Your Calendar

The library will be closed on Monday, Oct. 14, for a staff training day. Regular hours resume the following day.

Basic Genealogy Classes

The library will be offering three basic genealogy classes in October and November. The classes are aimed at beginners to family history research or those who want a basic review. Each class has extra time built in for questions.

The first, “Beginning Your Family History Search,” will be on Thursday, Oct. 17, from 1 to 2:30 p.m.; the second, “Finding and Using Records,” will be on Thursday, Oct. 31, from 1 to 2:30 p.m.; while the third, “DNA Basics,” will be on Thursday, Nov. 14, from 1 to 2:30 p.m.

Attendance is limited so pre-registration is required; be sure to stop by the Reference Desk or call 541-997-3132 to sign-up.

Discover — Create — Be Inspired at demARTS

On Saturday, Oct. 5, the Siuslaw Public Library, 1460 Ninth St., will hold its sixth annual demARTS event. This popular event is a day-long demonstration of creativity and art with something for anyone and everyone who enjoys art, creates art, or desires to create art.

The demARTS event celebrates National Arts and Humanities Month with more than a dozen artists who will demonstrate techniques in painting, beading, card making, fabric and fiber arts, and more. Demonstrations will take place throughout the library from 10 a.m. to 4:30 p.m.

This year, as in previous years, there will be different mediums and art forms for people to learn about and potentially explore. Demonstrations new to this sixth year of demARTS include cell phone photography, handmade folded paper books and tiny terrariums.

The first round of art demonstrations begins at 10 a.m. on Saturday at the main branch of the Siuslaw Public Library.

Alternating groups of artists demonstrate their talents for two hours each through the day. These revolving presentations allow participants to observe many artists and crafters working in a variety of mediums.

Plus, fans of the performing arts will be treated to a preview or two of up and coming performances.

This all-day celebration is the perfect opportunity for adults and children alike to watch the creative process, speak with the artists as they work and find inspiration and encouragement from our talented artists. Once inspired, everyone is invited to participate in the community art project and visit the Make and

Take Room inside the library to make your own piece of art, such as a button or card.

For even more inspiration, artists and inspiring artists are encouraged to peruse and check out one (or more) of the library’s dozens of art and craft books.

The demARTS event is free and open to all. The first 50 participants will receive a commemorative charm. All in attendance will have a chance to win special prizes throughout the day.

For more info, go to www.siuslawlibrary.info.

Three 2018 demARTS participants create paper art in the Make and Take Room.
