OPRD reminds state parks visitors to recreate responsibly

COVID-19 is still a reality in Oregon and Oregon Parks and Recreation Department (OPRD) is asking visitors to do their part to help protect themselves and the health of their fellow Oregonians.

The state park system has been slowly reopening since early May, but nearly every park is experiencing reduced levels of service due to a $22 million budget gap.

OPRD is relying on visitors to help us through this unprecedented time. The best thing way to keep yourself and others safe is to "Prepare + Care." Prepare before you leave the house, then take care of yourself and the people around you while at the park.

PREPARE
If you're not feeling well, stay home. The parks will still be here when you recover. Whether you're stopping for the afternoon or camping overnight, bring the essentials with you: face coverings, hand sanitizer,

CARE
Try to maintain at least 6 feet of physical distance from folks that aren't part of your household. Please wear a face covering, especially when in congested areas like parking lots, trailheads or restrooms.

Take it easy while at the park: stick to trails and activities you're familiar with. If you get in over your head and get injured or lost, that will further strain our already thin resources.

Take your trash with you when you leave. Garbage service has been significantly reduced and packing out what you pack in is a huge help to park rangers.

With the weather heating up, campfire restrictions may be in effect in some state parks. Check campground and trailhead notice boards for posted fire restrictions, or call ahead to double check.

REDUCED SERVICES
We have far fewer staff than we normally do for the busy summer season.

Park rangers will be focused on essential duties to keep you safe, so other typical services may fall by the wayside. Events and programs will be canceled, ice or firewood sales may be suspended, and grounds maintenance and trash pickup will be less frequent. Service availability may change quickly.

Many facilities will be closed or have sharply reduced hours. Shower/restroom facilities, ranger booths, welcome centers, and other places will be affected. Go to the webpage for the park you plan to visit before you leave to learn what's open and what's closed.

When you arrive at the park, scope out the open facilities. Don't forget: normal park rules still apply. Visit the state parks recreation FAQ for a refresher.

Learn more about safe recreation in parks during the pandemic, including more specifics for day-use and camping, on the state parks website: stateparks.oregon.gov.

Fishing from 1B

the Salmon River on Aug.1. Expect fishing to be slow at the beginning of August but things typically start to pick up at the end of the month and into September.

SILETZ RIVER:
Summer steelhead, fall Chinook, cutthroat trout Summer steelhead fishing is still slow on the Siletz River but overall it has improved in the last few weeks. The higher than normal flows in June and early July changed the migration timing and these fish and they are finally starting to stage in the upper portions of the river and gorge sections.

The high and cooler water has slowed the migration this year but now we are in a more typical summer pattern and the fish seem to be responding, moving up into the gorge where there is better summer holding water. Fish numbers should keep increasing through the month of July and into August.

Spring Chinook fishing closes on Aug. 1 above the Ojalla boat ram. Anglers are reminded that the bag limit has been changed for the 2020 spring Chinook season to 1 fish per day and 1 for the year.

Fall Chinook fishing opens this weekend in the lower Siletz River tidewater up to the Ojalla boat slide. Expect fishing to be slow for the beginning of August but fishable numbers usually start to show up by the end of the month. Due to low forecasted returns for the 2020 season bag limits have been reduced. The bag limit for the Siletz River is 1 wild chinook per day and 5 per year for the 2020 season.

Cutthroat trout fishing is open in the Siletz basin and good trout fishing opportunities will remain through the summer months.

The 4.0-mile bridge (aka Steel Bridge) in the Siletz gorge is open to motorized vehicles but is only open to public vehicles on the weekend. Anglers can walk/bike in the road during the weekdays. If anglers do walk in, they can park at the one-mile gate and start from there.

YAQUINA RIVER: Fall Chinook

Fall Chinook fishing opens on the Yaquina and Big Elk systems on Aug. 1. These fisheries are typically slow at the beginning of August but start to pick up at the end of the month. Anglers are reminded that due to low forecasted returns for the 2020 season bag limits have been reduced on the Yaquina/Big Elk Rivers. The bag limit for the Yaquina/Big Elk is 1 wild Chinook per day and 5 per year for the 2020 season.

TENMILE LAKES:
Trout, warmwater species,

largemouth bass

Largemouth bass can be caught early mornings and late evenings in shallow water. During the middle of the day bass can be caught in deeper water and in the shade of docks. Recent water temperatures have been between 70-75 degrees.

Anglers are catching yellow perch fishing small jigs or worms on a hook near the bottom in 8-10 feet of water. The outside weedlines are fairly consistent at 9 feet of water throughout the lake.

Trout fishing has slowed down with the warmer water temperatures. Anglers will have the best success fishing for trout in the deeper water and trolling slowly.

UMPQUA RIVER, SOUTH: Bass, trout

There are consistently good reports on bass fishing in the South Umpqua. Trout is catch-and-release for the South Umpqua Basin. The mainstem and tributaries above Jackson Creek Bridge are closed year-round.

PACIFIC OCEAN and BEACHES: Bottomfish, salmon, halibut, surfperch
Douglas County Parks are open.

Bottomfishing is restricted to inside the 40-fathom regulatory line until Sept. 1. Fishing for rockfish and lingcod has been spotty recently when anglers can get out on the ocean. The daily bag limit for marine fish was recently increased to 7. But anglers must release all copper, quillback or China rockfish when fishing from a boat.

Anglers are also allowed 2 lingcod per day. Anglers may harvest 1 cabezon per day as part of your general marine fish daily limit.

Anglers may also choose to fish the offshore longleader fishery outside of the 40-fathom regulatory line, which is open year-round. The longleader fishery has a daily bag limit of 10 fish made of yellowtail, widow, canary, blue, deacon, redstripe, greenstripe, silvergray, chillipepper and bocaccio rockfish.

No other groundfish are allowed and offshore longleader fishing trips cannot be combined with traditional bottomfish, flatfish or halibut trips. Find information about a longleader setup here.

Surfperch anglers are reporting limited success fishing the ocean beaches using sand shrimp or Berkley Gulp sand worms.

The ocean Selective Coho (fin-clipped) season opened on June 22 from Cape Falcon to the OR/CA Border. This area in the ocean is also open to harvest of Chinook salmon.

The salmon bag limit is two salmon per day. Ocean salmon fishing for fin-clipped coho and Chinook continue to be good out of Winchester Bay. As of July 19, there was 20.7 percent of the quota remaining.

The Nearshore Halibut season for the Central Coast Subarea is open 7 days a week, inside the 40-fathom line, through the earlier of the quota of 32,591 pounds or Oct. 31. As of July 19, there is 45 percent of the quota remaining. As of July 18, there is 45 percent of the quota remaining.

The Southern Oregon Subarea for halibut is open 7 days a week through the earlier of the quota of 8,000 pounds or Oct. 31. As of July 19, there is 79 percent of the quota remaining.

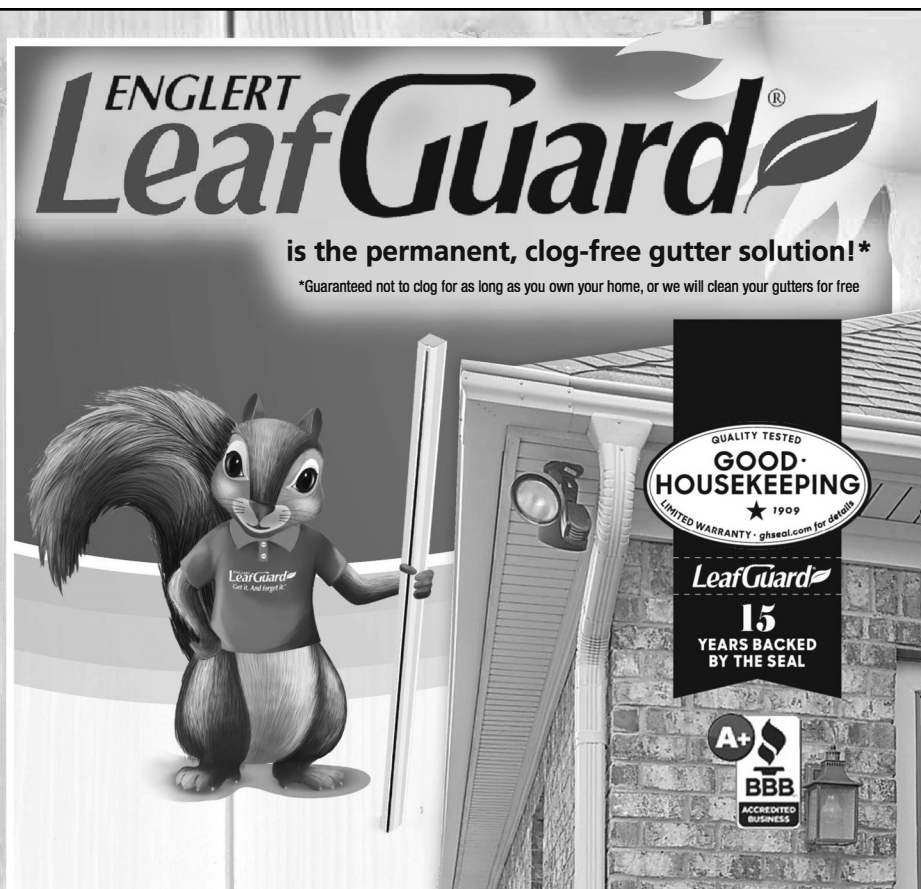

ALBACORE TUNA:
Albacore tuna have started to come into range for some of the larger private recreational boats. If the weather cooperates, the fishing can be expected to improve soon.

During the past two weeks, the ocean conditions and weather have prevented anglers from getting to where the tuna are. This week may finally provide a break for anglers and allow them to get offshore to the tuna waters

CRABBING and CLAMMING

Always check for closures at the ODA Shellfish Safety page before clamming or crabbing. <http://ODA.direct/ShellfishClosures>.

Crabbing and clamming for nonresidents for nonresidents is now open from Cape Falcon (between Seaside and Tillamook) south to the OR/CA border. All other shellfish license activities (clamming, mussel harvest, etc.) remain closed to nonresidents until further notice.
