Coast Insurance to host 'Drive-In Radio Bingo' at SMS

On Saturday, Feb. 20, from noon to 2 p.m., Coast Insurance will be hosting the free Drive-In Radio Bingo at the Siuslaw Middle School parking lot, 2525 Oak St.

Coast Radio is partnering with the event and will broadcast the Bingo games on the radio at KCST 106.9 FM.

According to organizer Jean Murphey, “Cars will come in the parking lot and we’ll give each player an envelope that has Bingo cards, pens, information on food and rules of play.”

There are different packets for kids and adults, and all ages are welcome.

Each car will get a flag to be able to indicate if they reach bingo on their games.

“They will then drive to a numbered parking space and that will be their number to play and order food,” Murphey said.

The Boys and Girls Clubs of Western Lane County will be handling concessions.

Cars can then tune into KCST, where hosts Wayne Sharpe and George Henry will start calling the games at 12:05 p.m.

“When someone gets a bingo, I expect they will honk their horn and flash their lights,” Murphey said. “They need to wave the flag out their window to get the volunteers’ attention.”

Community volunteers will then go to that vehicle and radio the numbers in the Bingo to the caller to verify validity.

“We continue to call numbers until there is an adult winner and a youth winner. So, two winners per game,” Murphey added.

There will be 11 games total, with the final being a black out.

People have to remain in their vehicles the entire time, and no restrooms will be available.

The event is entirely free to participate.

Fishing from 1B

week on the popular NF Alsea bank fishery as the river levels drop back into shape.

The dry weather in the forecast will keep the river on the drop and fish moving through the holiday weekend. Conditions will be good for the drift boaters later in the week and into the weekend. Fish are now distributed throughout the river and the numbers will increase with each bump in river levels.

Reminder: The popular winter steelhead bank fishery around the Alsea Hatchery remains open but the hatchery grounds are closed to the public. Anglers are required to park in the designated parking lot to access the river and are not allowed to park near or enter the hatchery grounds. Please be respectful of the hatchery staff and follow these rules to ensure this popular fishery remains open for the 2020/2021 season.

Cutthroat trout fishing closed for the season on Oct. 31.

SALMON RIVER:
Winter steelhead
Winter steelhead

fishing is open on the Salmon River and should start to pick up later in December and into January. The peak for winter steelhead on the Salmon River is typically January to March. Note: The Salmon River hatchery remains closed to walk in anglers. Anglers can use access points upstream and downstream of the hatchery to access those traditional fishing locations.

SILETZ RIVER:
Winter steelhead
Winter steelheading has been slow on the Siletz River due to the high unfishable water. The dry forecast this week has the river dropping quickly into shape creating great conditions for the first good push of winter steelhead for the season. Expect fish to be distributed throughout the system once the river levels recede. The typical peak for Siletz winter steelhead is January to March.

The 4-mile bridge (aka Steel Bridge) in the Siletz gorge is open to motorized vehicles on the weekends only. Anglers can walk/bike in the road during the weekdays. There is a parking area located at the 1-mile gate where anglers can walk/bike upstream from there.

WILSON RIVER:
Steelhead
The Wilson's returning hatchery steelhead run is all “broodstock” hatchery fish, meaning their origins are Wilson wild steelhead. As such, their run timing mimics that of the wild run, which peaks January through March. That said, there should be a few fish around as the Wilson drops back into shape.

YAQUINA RIVER:
Winter steelhead
Winter steelhead will start to show up in the Yaquina/Big Elk in December and typically peak from January to March.

COOS RIVER BASIN: Marine perch species, salmon, steelhead
The lower Coos Bay estuary has been a little rough from the recent ocean swells but anglers can still catch rockfish along the jetty and submerged rock structures when the bay is calmer. Smaller jigs with a twister tail or 1-ounce jigging spoons have been working to catch rockfish and greenling. The daily bag limit for marine fish was recently increased to 7, which for boat anglers cannot include any copper, quillback, China rockfish or cabezon.

Bank anglers can still retain one copper, quillback or China rockfish and 1 cabezon as part of their daily bag limit. Boat and bank anglers are also allowed 2 lingcod per day.

Trout fishing in streams and rivers is now closed until next spring.

TENMILE LAKES/ TENMILE CREEK:
Steelhead anglers have caught a couple hatchery steelhead on Tenmile Creek this past week.

We are open and ready to assist you!
