OCHS Thriftshop grand re-opening set for Friday

The Oregon Coast Humane Society Thrift Shop and PAWS Boutique will celebrate a grand reopening this weekend from Friday, May 14 through Sunday, May 16.

The shops, located at 1193 and 1179 Bay St. in Historic Old Town, will be open 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. each day and feature a 25 percent off storewide sale. In addition, shoppers can fill a bag with clothing for $9, or dog or cat items for $5.

There will be raffle prizes along with a bottle and can drive. All proceeds from the event will be used to care for the shelter's animals.

"We couldn't be more grateful to so many invest-tors and contributors, and to local businesses for their gracious contributions and considerations for our budget on this huge project," said OCHS executive director Elizabeth Thompson.

Through the thoughtful investments of generous benefactors, and the labor of volunteers and staff — along with discounts offered by various local businesses — OCHS was able to enhance the thrift shop in many ways, including new landscaping by Leo's Landscape Maintenance, new flooring from Black Diamond Flooring, and a gift of display cabinets from the Wizard of Odds.

"Dear Miss Kopp"

By Amy Stewart

Split apart by the war effort, the indomitable Kopp sisters take on saboteurs and spies and stand up to the Army brass as they face the possibility that their life back home will never be the same.

The U.S. has finally entered World War I. Constance, the oldest of the Kopp sisters, is doing intelligence work on the home front for the Bureau of Investigation while youngest sister and aspiring actress, Fleurette, travels across the country entertaining troops with song and dance.

Meanwhile, at an undisclosed location in France, Norma oversees her thwarted pigeon project for the Army Signal Corps. When her roommate, a nurse at the American field hospital, is accused of stealing essential medical supplies, the intrepid Norma is on the case to find the true culprit.

Determined to maintain their sometimes-scratchy family bonds across the miles, the far-flung sisters try to keep each other in their lives. But the world has irrevocably changed — when will the sisters be together again?

Told through letters, Dear Miss Kopp weaves the stories of real-life women a century ago.

Amy Stewart, a previous keynoter at the Florence Festival of Books, is the author of six Miss Kopp novels, as well as several non-fiction books, including "The Drunken Botanist," "Wicked Bugs" and "Wicked Plants."

Stewart lives in Portland, Ore.

The Library in 'High' Risk

With Lane County dropping back down to "high" Covid risk from the previous "extreme," the library is going to return to offering Internet computer appointments (which began this past Monday).

We offer a limited number of computers available for same or next-day reservation or sometimes walk-ins.

Browsing will continue unaffected, as the library's occupancy limit is still much more than the numbers of patrons who actually visit at any one time.

The Mapleton branch library will be returning to browsing this week, limiting access to either one individual at a time or a single family. Their browsing hours are Thursdays, noon to 5 p.m.

Free Audiobooks for Teens (and Others)

It's time again for SYNC audiobooks! Now through Aug. 4, teens (and adults), can get two free digital audiobooks per week.

Aimed towards teens ages 13+, the books are downloadable by anyone and may be enjoyed by a wide range of ages.

Visit www.audiofilemagazine.com/sync/, for more information, and to register to get the books in the Sora app.

The books cover a wide range of genres and topics.

Each pair of books are available for download for one week's time before the next selections become available.

If you have questions, check with library staff.

Local phone book makes 'call to artists' for cover art

Pacific Publishing and Florence Regional Arts Alliance (FRAA) are very excited to invite artists to submit their 2D artwork for the cover of the 2022 edition of the Central Coast Connection Phone Book.

"The book covers generate a tremendous amount of feedback each year. Many of the area's best-known artists have been featured over the past three decades," explained Publisher Jon Thompson. "We embrace the importance of local art in our community and are incredibly proud of the iconic covers that have graced the book in the past."

Artwork must be the original creation of the artist submitting and made within the last three years. Paintings can be in any medium (oil, pastel, watercolor, etc.), but no photography this year.

Artwork should relate to the region (Yachats to Reedsport, east to Deadwood) and may show scenery, buildings, people or other areas of interest.

Artists do not need to be local residents and entries are limited to three per artist.

The artwork will be featured on the cover of the publication, which is delivered to almost 20,000 residents annually.

Additionally, a $500 cash prize is being offered by Pacific Publishing to the winner, with all rights to publish the artwork for any promotional purposes determined by Pacific Publishing.

To learn further details and instructions about this contest, go to the FRAA website at www.fraaoregon.org/central-coast-entry-instructions.html.

Deadline for submissions is July 15, 2021.

Though submissions are done electronically, the winner will need to provide the original artwork, suitably framed, to Pacific Publishing in exchange for the cash prize.

The winning artist will receive a photo and bio in the phone book.

Pacific Publishing will determine the winner the week of July 26. Notice of being chosen as the winner will be made via email during that week.

For more information, email fraaoregon@gmail.com.
