Digging up history with the Siuslaw Genealogy Society

Got history? Join a meeting on Wednesday, Aug. 18, to hear a fascinating account by Siuslaw Genealogy Society vice president, Rick Norwood. As a retired archaeologist, learning about an excavation of the homesite of his ninth great grandparents immediately piqued his interest. Robert Waterman and Elizabeth Bourne landed in Salem, Mass., from England in 1636. Soon thereafter, they relocated to Marshfield, Mass., in Plymouth Colony, and built a house. Their small starter home was of earth-fast, post-in-ground and palisaded wall construction. It burned down in a catastrophic fire after a short period of occupation. House fires were common in these early times. "In archaeology, we find that while fire destroys, it also preserves certain items," Norwood said. "The excavation and study of the Waterman house ruins is one of the few remaining early period Plymouth Colony homes. It was possible to reconstruct the diet, see expressions of gender roles, environmental adaptation, and English and Native American cultural exchange. It was also possible to reconstruct the architecture and material culture of the Waterman family home. Archaeology can reveal ordinary day to day life of people not always recorded in the written record." This will be an amazing opportunity to learn more about early American life. With the continued closure of the Siuslaw Genealogy Society's usual meeting location, this meeting will be held at 7 p.m. at The Mustard Seed, 509 Kingwood St. in Florence. Appropriate protocols will be followed. In case changes are necessary, people can check the blog for updates at siuslawgenealogy.org. ## State school officials hold info forum on masking

Oregon parents and families are invited to participate in a town hall with state's top education and health officials next week.

"We know you may have questions about this requirement and as a community, we have an opportunity to join state education and health officials during one of two Facebook Live Town Hall events," they stated.

cuela en persona, todos los días escolares durante todo el año escolar. Para hacerlo, estamos dando prioridad a la salud y seguridad de los estudiantes y del personal de las escuelas.

On Tuesday, Aug. 17, from 6 to 7 p.m. — and again on Aug. 18 for Spanish speakers — Oregon Department of Education (ODE) and Oregon Health Authority (OHA) officials are hosting a Facebook Live Townhall forum event to discuss the K-12 masking requirements. ODE and OHA sent out an Informational Bulletin stating, "Dear parents and families, as a state and community, we have a shared goal to ensure that every student in Oregon is able to attend school in-person, every school day for the entire 2021-22 school year. In order to do so, we are prioritizing student and staff health and safety." The organizations recently released requirements for face coverings in K-12 schools.

Facebook account is not required to access these events, which can be accessed through www.facebook.com/ORDeptEd. Participants will be invited to share questions during the events and can also submit questions ahead of time by contacting ODECovid19@ode.state.or.us. For more information, visit www.oregon.gov/ode/readyschools/. El Departamento de Educación de Oregon y el Oregon Health Authority compartieron recientemente el cambio en los requisitos para el uso de cubrebocas en las escuelas de grados Kínder a 12. Sabemos que puede tener preguntas sobre este nuevo requisito. Invitamos a todos los residentes de Oregon a que acompañen a los funcionarios estatales de educación y salud en un evento de Facebook Live el miércoles 18 de agosto. Invitaremos a las personas a que compartan sus preguntas durante el evento y también pueden enviar preguntas con anticipación mediante este formulario de Google: <https://forms.gle/zfkSoiWKU3apCwxU6>.
