

THE ASTORIAN.

ASTORIA, OREGON:

D. C. IRELAND, Editor. THURSDAY, JULY 24, 1873

An Iowa merchant won't advertise in the papers but paints on the fences "Go two Allen's for yer-dri-goods."

A Boston father is taking French lessons in order to resume intercourse with his children, who have been living in France for five years.

A Des Moines girl ran away with a circus, and her father followed and lodged so much birdshot in the funny clown that the funny clown hasn't repeated a joke since.

Apply salt to the tomatoes at various times during the season. It increases the growth of both plant and fruit. Sprinkle young plants with a tablespoonful of salt. Plants treated with salt at the root take an immediate start and develop fine fruit.

Mr. Joseph Medill, editor, and Mayor of Chicago, was asked by a newspaper reporter if he would run again for the mayoralty. His honor replied, "There isn't political, social, or pecuniary inducements in Chicago to hire me—not if the unanimous vote of every soul in the city were added. I have had enough."

Everything must have its ups and downs, its alternating sunshine and showers, and the sheep business is no exception. But we do not know of an industry which rests upon a more legitimate and safe basis. To start with, the production of wool is not equal to the wants of the country; and the growth of our population is such, that it requires each year the product of 4,000,000 more sheep than it did the year before.

COIN DOLLARS—Four hundred thousand new silver trade dollars have been delivered by the Philadelphia Mint. Dies for the dollar will be sent to San Francisco and Carson Mints, in the early part of the present week, where planchets are ready for coinage. At San Francisco there will be two hundred thousand, and at Carson one hundred thousand dollars per month supplied. It is thought that within the next six months there may be such a decline in silver bullion as to throw some of these new dollars into circulation in the east.

A French organ in New York city, speaking of the substitution of Marshal MacMahon for Thiers in the Presidency of the French Republic says: "Faction has made its revolution against the national sentiment, against the electoral body, against France, against the Republic; more than that, against the new founded order, against peace, against confidence within and without, against re-established prosperity, against a triumphant credit, and against that supreme aspiration of the country—the liberation of French territory by the hands, the wisdom and the honor of the Republic."

The San Diego Union expresses the opinion that, as Gen. Crook has "fallen in love with Arizona," he will, as soon as peace is established on a firm basis, offer his resignation, purchase a tract of land, become a citizen of Arizona, and join with the earnest and persevering people of the Territory in the material development of the country. This is the first intimation we have heard that Gen. Crook contemplated tendering a resignation, and we are loth to believe that it has any foundation. General Crook has chosen the Army as his home, and we do not believe that he intends giving up a profession in which he has been so eminently successful, and of such great service to the country. He is now the best praised man in America, for his success over the Indians and the hollow hearted but no less vicious scoundrels of the miscalled Christian Indian King, around both of which vile bodies he has formed an anaconda that is making their infernal bones crack. Leading men and newspapers of every section of the country are praising the General, and right well has he earned said praise, as the heartfelt thanks of all frontier people here and elsewhere.

WHAT THE CHINESE COST US.

(From the San Francisco Call.) In coming to the Call office yesterday morning, through one of our most populous streets we saw in the basement of the building some fifteen or twenty Chinese at work on shoes. This led us to make an estimate as to the advantage or disadvantage of having this class of population in California.

In the first place we have about fifty thousand Chinese in California, and this fifty thousand realize for their labor at least one dollar per head each day on an average over and above the money expended for such commodities as they purchase from our people. Including manufacturing establishments which are carried on by Chinese, our estimate of one dollar as profits, which are taken out of the country, is rather under than over rated. There seems no doubt whatever that fifty thousand dollars per day are drawn from this coast for Chinese labor, which sum of money goes to China, from whence it never returns. This would give us a total tax, for having the services of the Chinese, of $1,500,000 per month, or $18,000,000 per annum. Here is a drain upon the resources of California, Oregon and Nevada fearful to contemplate. This labor, to a very great extent, is a dead loss to our citizens, for the Chinese do not erect our dwellings nor leave any permanent improvements behind. Neither do they open farms. They manufacture a few commodities, raise a few vegetables, and assist in cultivating vineyards; but large numbers are employed as domestic servants, or extract gold from gulches. The work done by the Chinese could, to a great extent be more advantageously performed by our own people. We have an ample labor supply in this State, if it were utilized; or we could draw it from the Eastern States; and the money earned in this way would be saved to California to start manufacturing establishments, erect dwellings, stores, etc. All classes of population except the Chinese add to the wealth of the country, but money earned by the Chinese is carried away.

As we have stated before, this coast is paying tribute for Chinese labor annually to the amount of some eighteen millions of dollars. This money, we contend, could be saved by employing another class of labor. If all would make it a point to employ workmen who live amongst us—are of us—and invest their means here instead of sending it to China, the State would soon be in a most prosperous condition. But, on the contrary, should our citizens continue to employ Chinese, and let the labor of our own people to a very great extent be lost, we shall have a depressed community. Instead of our streets being occupied by a white population, with workshops and stores on every hand, with a happy and contented people, we shall have a Hong-kong in our midst, and Chinese dealers alone will be found upon our principal thoroughfares. Even now no white tenant will hire a building on certain streets. The nuisance is like a cancer; it becomes fastened in a particular locality, and from thence it spreads, until property is ruined all around for any other purpose except the use of Chinese. At one time it was supposed that Chinese labor could be utilized with advantage; that laborers alone, which was bad enough, would suffer; but as soon as Chinese workmen learn a branch of business, from that moment the Chinese laborer not only supplants the white workman, but he supplants also the white employer.

A Duluth editor publishes statistics to prove that within nine years that embryo city will need fifty elevators, one thousand steamers and tens of thousands of railroad cars. He sees it all "in his mind's eye," and is so confident all this will come to pass, that he will sell a half interest in his printing office for a new milch cow.

A cheerful acceptance of the fact that honest, steady, persistent, work, year after year, some of it hard work, some of it disagreeable, is necessary for the farmer, is another element of success.

[Published by Authority.] GRAND JURY REPORT, PACIFIC COUNTY, W. T.

To the District Court of the Second Judicial District of Washington Territory, holding terms at Oysterville; July term, 1873.

To the Hon. ROGER S. GREENE, Judge of the said Court: The Grand Jury, duly impaneled for the said term, having concluded their labors, do now submit their report:

First, They have examined all complaints made, and all witnesses brought before them, and as the result of such examination have found and returned one true bill on the part of the Territory. None on the part of the United States.

Second, We take pleasure in testifying to the general good order which prevails in the county of the County Auditor, for the purpose of examining the records of the County, and as the result of such examination we find that the records of the county are kept in a neat and orderly manner, so far as the Auditor is enabled to do so, with the means furnished him by the Board of Commissioners; but we feel it to be our duty to call the attention of the Commissioners, through the Court, to the fact that the Auditor has but one book in which to record Mortgages, Stock Deeds, Marriages, Licenses, Bills of Sale, Inventories of Separate property, Chattel Mortgages, Mechanics liens, etc., all of which are mixed up in an indiscriminate manner. An appropriation of from Ten to Twenty Dollars would enable the Auditor to provide separate books for each of the matters enumerated above, and we think that the credit of the county, and the welfare of its present and future citizens, require that such an appropriation be made.

We made an examination of the annual assessment roll, and declare that in our opinion (based upon such examination), and upon our personal knowledge of the value of property, that the assessment made is unfair and unequal—by which we mean that an unfair valuation has been made, and the result is that the burden of taxation is not equally divided. We suggest, that this matter is one that need only be suggested, and that the proper remedy will be applied. We are all alike interested in the county, and every man should be required to bear his equal and fair share of the cost of maintaining the government that extends equal protection to all.

We did not examine the condition of the other county offices, as no complaint was made and the character of the gentlemen holding the offices is such that we feel sure that an examination would only result in our certifying to what is already known, to-wit: That they are "good and faithful servants."

We return thanks to the Court and its officers for courtesies shown us, and to J. M. Fletcher, Esq., District Attorney, for the assistance he has rendered us in the discharge of our duties. We recommend that this report be published in the ASTORIAN, Oregonian and Courier, for the information of the people of the county, and that the Clerk of the Court furnish an attested copy thereof to each of those papers. All of which is respectfully submitted. J. B. KNAPP, Foreman. A. N. SAYERS, Clerk. ROBERT TURNER, Clerk of District Court. j24-1th
