HOW TO MAKE GOOD SCHOOLS.

Charity it is said begins at home; education certainly does, and to so much purpose that we had almost said it begins at home and ends there.

Hence the success of a school depends as much upon the people of the district, if not more, than upon the teacher.

We do not ask parents to carry on the schools; they will be doing a good part to see that their children are in the schools, that their attendance is regular, and that their deportment out of school hours is correct.

Parents should not be in haste to believe the idle and senseless rumors too often set afloat by some disaffected party, and retailed from store and shop by idle gossipers to the discredit of the teacher and the school.

Teachers are liable, we suppose, in common with the rest of mankind, to make mistakes, but it is no less true that those who make the most fuss about schools, and are loudest in their complaints of teachers know least about them, and are most unfit to judge.

Go to the teacher, with kindness in your heart, with an expression of good will upon your countenance and make known your grievance to him alone.

Our occasional correspondent at Westport contributes the following, under date of September 29th: Mr. Plimpton is about ready for pile driving, for a new wharf to be built at his place adjoining Westport.

It appears that the assassin of Gen. McCook at Yankton last month was Charley Wintermute, formerly of St. Paul Minnesota.

THE EDITH REJECTED.

We are informed that the bark City of Paris has been substituted for the ship Edith to come to Portland under charter to load with wheat for Europe.

The rejection of the Edith, and the substitution of the City of Paris, will not materially aid the case, either, if we take the Privateer, Winemere, and Wetterhorn as samples of the economy of engaging light draft vessels for the Oregon grain trade.

WESTPORT NEWS.

Our occasional correspondent at Westport contributes the following, under date of September 29th:

Mr. Plimpton is about ready for pile driving, for a new wharf to be built at his place adjoining Westport.

Capt. John West & Co. are preparing for wharf building adjoining their present dock.

Mr. Scott Sampson caught seventy-five trout last Sunday in Westport creek, some of them were over twelve inches long, and others would weigh over a pound a piece.

Mr. Marshall Morgan, brought down at the first shot, a fine fat deer on Sunday, on the Island opposite Westport.

Mr. David West, and W. C. Stevens made the trip from Astoria to Westport in five hours, in a small boat, on Sunday. It is thought they must have had a good head of steam on.

There are a few stray Cougars in this vicinity, and as the people here are strictly honest, say they have lost none—any person hankering after that kind of meat, might get away with two or three, on the sly.

Fishermen are already making preparations for Salmon fishing the coming season, knitting nets, having boats built, etc. In fact every one here is busy—happiness and contentment reign supreme, and smiles light every phisog.

—It appears that the assassin of Gen. McCook at Yankton last month was Charley Wintermute, formerly of St. Paul Minnesota.

The Dalles Mountaineer has entered upon its fourteenth year.
