Sound Advice from Grant.

Ex--Doorkeeper Fitzhugh Desperate in a fit of Abstraction.

—A New York dispatch says the Mustang rider, we are glad to see, proposes to repeat his attempt to ride 300 miles in fifteen hours. His throwing the blame of his failure mainly on the rain and heavy track is doubtless just; but we are glad to see that he admits his mistake in attempting to ride for such a length of time without proper nourishment.

—A financial agreement of the Pacific old and new stockholders has been arranged, the latter promising to reimburse the old directors for any funds advanced to the company, and on this condition the property is to be turned over to the present holders of stock, so that the annual election will be proceeded with on the 31st. A new contract, or lease, will be made with the Panama road and the two companies will work in harmony again.

—Five fishing vessels and forty-nine lives have been lost in the Gloucester fisheries this year.

—It is reported that Grant said to Kellogg if he (Kellogg), were discharging his duties at home, instead of being here asking for troops, peace would be maintained. The President also added with some vehemence, that he was tired of being bored with Louisiana affairs and didn't want to be perplexed with them any more, and hoped Kellogg would attend to his duty. The ex-officers of State here regard the rebuking as just.

—The Postmaster General will soon send South trustworthy agents to keep the National Republican Committee informed in regard to campaign news.

—The House committee on Territories adopted the favorable report made by sub-committee on Lane's bill to annex Walla Walla and Columbia counties to the State of Oregon, and recommended the report to the House for passage.

—Ex-doorkeeper Fitzhugh, when he vacated his office yesterday carried away with him certain valuable records. He also went to the document room and asking to be shown several index boxes showing the number of documents and books drawn by and belonging to each member, and these being produced, he coolly took them and placing them under his arm, walked off. All efforts to get them back have been unavailing. Cox, Speaker pro tem, has directed the seargent-at-arms of the House to take steps to recover the records. Fitzhugh says he haa important information which will make Democrats tremble, and injure party interests if it becomes known. He intimates that he may use it to get even with those who have disgraced him.

—It is probable that, until the arrival of Judge Pierrepont at the Court of St. James, nothing of a definite character will be done by our government in relation to the existing misunderstanding upon the provisions of the extradition treaty, which are at present altogether inoperative.

—Referring to the interruption of Senator Mitchell by Senator Merrimon, when speaking in favor of Sargent's bill to restrict Chinese imigration, the Chronicle says: "Senator Merrimon interrupted the speaker to make the inquiry whether any portion of the Chinese on this coast were naturalized, his impression being apparantly that if they could be persuaded to take kindly to the idea of becoming American citizens all the evils of the imigration would be neutralized and the objections to the Asiatic influx would be triumphantly answered. This furnishes an unpleasant and almost disheartening illustration of the difficulty of making the eastern mind comprehend the real aspects of this terrible problem."
