ASTORIA, OREGON:

D. C. IRELAND.....EDITOR

SATURDAY.....JUNE 3, 1876.

A great many people are wondering how much their trip to the Centennial is going to cost. And yet you'll notice the railroads offer to carry passengers to Philadelphia, "without change."

A New York paper, describing a boat race, alludes to "the flashing of 10,000 eyes and the plaudits of twice as many fair hands." What a lot of one-eyed women there must have been at that race!

The other day a Black Hills stage-driver undertook to horsewhip his passengers into getting out and pushing up hill, but the gold seekers held a coroner's inquest and found that he died of pneumonia.

The California oranges of the crop of 1875-6 have nearly all been harvested. The total yield foots up about 2,771,776. The crop of lemons will be about 356,710, and that of limes about 128,000.

The future prospects of an immense yield of the precious metal from the Virtue mine, near Baker City, are daily becoming more flattering, and as the prospects brighten, the general prosperity of the country also assumes a more cheerful outlook.

A Philadelphia paper says: "One of the afflictions of the Centennial will be a congress of lawyers, announced to convene in this city on the 20th of June." Why an affliction, pray? You don't think all the lawyers in the country are like "Philadelphia lawyers," do you?

Mary Louise, daughter of A. J. and Sarah R. Marshall, of Portland, died on the 1st. This little sufferer, aged fourteen, after years of pain, is at last in peace more blessed than life to her, in her cripple condition, the result of an accident which occurred in 1868 or 1869—compelling the utmost care and watchfulness from that day to this.

The depreciation in stocks in Wall street last month would doubtless have caused a financial convulsion throughout the country in ordinary times, but owing to the depression in monetary affairs which has so long existed there it exerted apparently little influence outside of that locality. It is stated that the aggregate loss, represented by the change of prices, is nearly thirty-seven millions on only ten leading stocks, and many others, less actively handled, have suffered as much.

Soon after the unfortunate occurrence of the breaking of the leg of Mr. Andy Greiguer, in Salem last Saturday, a lady who has just arrived in South Salem from Nebraska, saw the account of the accident in one of the dailies, and found that it was the name of her brother, who had come here years ago. She had written to him several times lately that she was coming to Oregon this spring, but he had never received her letters. She hastened to his room where he lay, and there was her brother. Joy and sorrow were mingled in their meeting.

We hear the name of Hon. W. D. Hare, at present Collector of Customs at Astoria, strongly urged by many leading Republicans as a candidate for the position of Senator in the Congress of the United States from Oregon. Mr. Hare is a ripe scholar, an honorable and an upright gentleman, and he would be a credit to the people in that position. No man is better versed in matters pertaining to the welfare of the State, and it would be a pleasure to many men of all parties who can lift their ideas of the people's prosperity above the lines of party dictation, to see him elected.

Drifts and Tow Heads 1876.

Upper Astoria, Clatsop county, Oregon. April 24, 1876. At a Special meeting of the Columbia River Fishermens Beneficial Aid Society, the following regulations for the government of all concerned were adopted. That the following drifts and tow heads be established for the fishing season of 1876. First Drift. From Woody Island to Brown's point. Second Drift. From Brown's Point inside of Snag Island to the 12th red buoy. Third Drift. From the 15th buoy to Tongue Point. Fourth Drift. From Tongue Point to a point a little west of Booth's Cannery, at a place to be designated by a spike or some permanent mark. Fifth Drift. From the termination of the 4th drift to Smith's Point. Sixth Drift. From Smith's Point to the Pacific Ocean. Seventh Drift. From the red buoy in the Prairie channel to Tongue Point up or down. Eighth Drift. The big snag in Chinook shoot will be considered a tow head. The fishermen in Astoria, in council have mutually agreed to bind themselves to be governed by the foregoing drifts, and it is expected from boats outside of the Society that they will also conform to the same. By order of the Society, THOMAS DEALFY, Sec.

How ADVERTISING AFFECTS BUSINESS.—The man who advertises his business, if what he offers for sale is honestly what he represents it to be or what it ought to be, is constantly assisted in his business by those who have been attracted to him and tested him. A buyer has read his advertisement, and gone to his store or work shop, warehouse, whatever it may be, and tried what was recommended. If it has satisfied him he is pleased and recommends it to his neighbor, who is likely to go to the same place and tell his neighbor in turn. And thus little rills started by his advertisement flow in upon him from all sides, and the current of his business grows stronger and wider and more rapid, and he prospers and grows rich, all because strict attention in business he added judicious advertising. But for this he might have lingered on in the community for years and his business would scarcely have been heard of.

"IT PAYS TO ADVERTISE."—This is true in every department of business, and no one appreciates its truth more fully than S. H. Thompson. Some time since he received the Agency for this county, of the Cunningham "Garden City Clipper Plow," and immediately advertised the same in our paper. Green B. Smith, Esq., a patron of the Gazette, saw the advertisement and forthwith rushed to Thompson's and purchased four of these celebrated plows—which at once have sprung into popular favor. No matter how good and valuable an article may be, a merchant or dealer may keep it upon his shelves, or in his store for months, or even years, and but few will know anything of its good qualities, unless he advertises. For years Mr. Thompson carried on business here, and spent but little for advertising. Within the past two years his business has increased nearly double, and he attributes it to judicious advertising. If you want to thrive in business, ADVERTISE—Corollis Gazette.

DON'T READ ADVERTISEMENTS.—Occasionally a business man is encountered who professes to believe that "people don't read advertisements; any how!" A greater mistake is seldom made. If a typographical error creeps into an ad. it soon becomes the talk of the neighborhood, and if the people do not read ads. how do they "drop" on errors with such facility? The other day the advertisement of the Centennial Restaurant appeared, in which the word "eating" was set up "fating," whereupon we were duly notified of the error by seven Salinasites and one Chinaman, and lastly, the Monterey Herald felt it duty bound to notify us also.—Daily Recorder, Salinas City, California.

TAKE YOUR LOCAL PAPER.—A man in Marion county last week saved $150 by taking his local paper, the Mercury, and there is a man in this county, near Brownsville, who told us, a short time ago, that he had made an 80-acre tract of land by being a reader of the Democrat. He had been wanting for a long time to buy an 80. adjoining his farm, but could get no track of the owner, who was a non-resident of the State, and finally saw it advertised for tax sale in the Democrat. He attended the sale and bought it for a nominal sum, and is now the owner of it.—Albany Democrat.
