Spend Your Money at Home.

The following are the most forcible reatons why you should spend your money at

1st, It is your home; you cannot improve it much by taking it away to spend

2d, There is no way of improving a place to much as by encouraging good mer-chants, good schools and good people to settle among you, and this cannot be done unless you spend your money at home.

3d, Spend your money at home, for there is where you generally get it. It is

4, Spend your money at home because when it is necessary for you to get credit, it is of your town merchants you have to get it, and they must wait for the money. Therefore, when you have the cash, spend it at home.

5th, Spend your money at home. It will make better merchants of your mer-chants; they can and will keep better assortments and sell at lower rates than if the only business they can do is what is credited out, while the money goes to 6th, Spend your money at home. Set the example now. Buy your dry goods, groceries, meats, and everything at home, and you will see a wonderful change in a short time in the business outlook of the place; therefore, deal with your home merchants.

7th, Spend your money at home. What do you gain by going off? Count the cost; see what you could have done at home by letting your merchants have the cash. Strike a balance and see if you would not have been just as well off, besides helping your merchants.

Sth, Spend your money at home. Your merchants are your neighbors, your friends; they stand by you in sicknessare your associates. Without your trade they cannot keep your business. No stores, then no banks, no one wanting to buy property to settle on and build up your place.

ENCOURAGE STRANGERS.-Just now a large number of persons are coming into the country in search of homes. As a rule they are families with Motary Public and Commissioner of Deeds for California and Washington Territory. means, but occasionally a poor straggler will be found whose means are exhausted, and who must depend upon employment for his daily bread. In all such cases our cannerymen and men of means should strain a point to help the needy immigrant. Look above your place and find something for him to do, and thus make the stranger feel that he has found a home among a sympathizing and liberal people.

Repp, Damask, Satm-enameled, Porcelain, Transparent-embo-sed, Marble, and a great variety of tinted Bristol board, suitable for elegant cards for ladies, and handsome cards for business men; just received at THE ASTORIAN office. Call upon our Frank and leave your order. The San Francisco press says: Work done in The Asorian office will stand alongside of any city work. It is our intention to do just as well by our patrons as any city, give us the work to do. Every dollar made in the office is invested in the city. Patronize home industries in every line of trade, if you would have your city prosperous.

The corpse of a business man, who had never advertised during his whole life, was secured by one of our Eastern medical colleges and placed in a dissecting room, where the young would-be doctors went to work on him. They bound him very tough. He had been so close in all his dealings that the very arteries and veins had become, in the latter part of his life, so contracted that he had not for years enjoyed good health. His heart was black and calloused at the lower end. He also had a white liver, which was very knotty in places. Business men who do not advertise should take warning from that poor unfortunate wretch.

The Cincinnati Gazette says: "The publishers of American newspapers, if they would follow the example of the Times, would largely increase their revenues: and why not? Why should not candidates for office, writers of compli-mentary resolutions, heros of cane presentations, and the like, pay for the space they occupy, as business men do? There is far too much tree advertising in the reading columns of American newspapers for the good of the publishers or the benefit of subscribers. We commend this suggestion to our friends of the press."
