Cannerymen and business men in general will do well to examine Adler's new stock of Blank-books and Stationery which he bought in the East and offers at less than Portland prices.

The ice gorge at Hell gate has been dislodged and carried below by the current. The Oregon Steam Navigation company intend to send a boat from Celilo to Wallula next Tuesday.

The public will find Metropolitan hall comfortable, warm, and clean on Tuesday evening next.

Dispatches received every few seconds from Capt. Lowe at Point Adams, last evening, telling of a fog off the bar, accounts for the non-arrival of the Great Republic yesterday evening.

One of the landmarks of early times in this part of Oregon, the old mill on Youngs bay, across the peninsula opposite Astoria has finally succumbed to the wear and tear of ages, and went down with the winds of night before last.

Secure your seats in time, for the grand musical concert at Metropolitan hall, on the 25th.

Mr. George Barrowdale a pioneer of Douglas county, but at present a resident of San Francisco, is in the city. Mr. B. represents one of the leading commercial houses in trade on this coast, but still claims to be of the web-foot nation, on the principle that once a web-foot, a man will always claim to be a web-foot. We have enjoyed Mr. B's acquaintance very much.

Another gang of villains have come to grief. They were Chicago parties who, by the practice of counterfeiting the letter-heads used by newspaper publishers, have been accustomed to procure passes from railroads and sell them to the ticket-scalpers. This double imposition against two such great and worthy institutions as railroads and newspapers, calls for the severest punishment known to law.

LITERARY NOTES.

Chambers' Cyclopedia of English Literature.

Volume one of the new and beautiful edition of this excellent work, just issued by the American Book Exchange, 55 Beekman street New York, embraces the history of our literature from the earliest period to the times of Queen Elizabeth, with lives of all noted authors, and choice specimens from the writings of each. All who are interested in the higher class of literature will welcome this new edition, with its clear type and handy form, and all who have been longing for the era of cheap books, will be more than satisfied with its wonderfully low price.

The entire work, in eight volumes, numbering over 3,200 pages, is offered, delivered free of expense, to those who subscribed direct at once, in paper binding, for $2 50; cloth $3 50; or half morocco, gilt top, $5 00. Specimen pages, showing size, style, type and paper of the entire work, and giving full particulars, including inducements to clubs, will be sent free on request. To those who would like to examine it, volume one, which is complete in itself, containing 416 pages, will be sent, postpaid, for nominal prices: In paper, 20 cents; cloth, 35 cents; half morocco, gilt top, 50 cents.

Purchasers have the option of getting the other seven volumes by paying at any time the remainder of the regular subscription price. The publishers sell only to subscribers direct, instead of giving to dealers and agents the usual 50 or 60 per cent. discount to sell for them, which accounts for the remarkable low prices. A specimen volume, in cloth binding, can be seen at the office of this paper, and those who desire to order can add their names to a club, which will soon be forwarded.

A New Literary Magazine.

The first number of the Library Magazine of current foreign literature announced by the American Book Exchange, 53 Beekman street, New York, to appear January 15th, is on our table. It is similar in character to the well known Littell's Living Age and Eclectic Magazine, containing, in a years number, about one-third as much matter as the former, and four-fifths as much as the latter. Monthly, 123 pages, $1 00 a year. Specimen number 10 cents.

A rich treat is in store for the people of Astoria, on next Tuesday evening, at Metropolitan hall.

Miss L. L. Allen, late of California, a very proficient teacher of music and singing, has lately arrived in Astoria and is stopping at Mrs. Rogers boarding house, on Cass street, and offers her services to the people of Astoria and vicinity as a teacher. See card elsewhere in this paper.

Mr. John D. Dix, brother to Mrs. W. H. Gray of this county, has taken his son Geo. W. Dix into partnership with him, 17 Cedar street New York. The firm was formerly Dix & Morris, it will be known in the future as Dix & Co. The business is that of importing, exporting, etc., in the line of drugs, dyes, etc. Oregonians visiting New York city will find THE ASTORIAN at the office of Dix & Co.

"The Chinese must go." We received a copy of that interesting and eminently Christian journal, the National Police Gazette. The number contains a vivid illustration of Chinese domestic servants and the consequences sometimes following their employment in places of female help. The incident related occurred in San Francisco. Adler has the paper for sale every week.

The Oregonian yesterday says: "The annual report of the president of the Astoria Chamber of Commerce, of which we have received a pamphlet copy, is a valuable document. It is a review of the commerce of that important and growing place for the year 1878, and abounds with useful suggestions as to improvement of our rivers and other methods of promoting commercial intercourse with the interior, as well as with practical observations on the development of many new sources of wealth. The report is creditable to its author, Judge Bowly, and the interest evinced in its preparation is an indication of good results to accrue in future from an intelligent attention to these important matters."

Prof. Trauner and his troupe will be assisted by Prof. H. C. Kay.

Important to the Ladies of Astoria.

Mrs. A. Glider, in David Ingalls building, corner of Cass and Jefferson streets, takes pleasure in informing the ladies of Astoria and vicinity that she has just opened a well selected stock of Ladies underwear, and Children's and Infants goods, to which she invites the attention of purchasers.
