St. Patrick's Day.

Yesterday was one of the most beautiful days that Astorians have experienced for many weeks. It being the anniversity of the Patron St. Patrick was enjoyed in a quiet way by our Irish citizens, who displayed the flags of their country generally, and appeared on the streets "wearing of the green." In the forenoon service was held at the Catholic church, and in the afternoon the band paraded the streets discoursing music appropriate to the day. The rooms of the Hibernian society were thrown open, in the Gem building, and the beautiful flag of the order displayed there. About half past three o'clock the band formed a circle in front of the hall, played a national air, which was responded to, exercises and speeches by Mr. T. A. Dealey and others.

Meroie act, and Dastardly act,

Shortly after the first ringing of the church bells Sunday evening a scene of horror presented itself on Jefferson street, near Olney, where a little child of Mr. R. Carruthers fell from the walk sesand a lot of second-hand carpenters into the bay. It so happened that two young men Lewis Allen, step son of Justice B. B. Turley, and Joseph Hare, son of Collector W. D. Hare, were passing near by, and hearing the splash immediately went to the rescue do cutting and fitting in her shop, and of the child. Master Allen took the precaution to devest himself of his > coat, vest and watch, before plunging into the water, and assisted by turned to its home. The boys then went to get the clothing and watch, when it was discovered that some got away with it. Such a dastardly act as that deserves the severest punishment, while the heroism of Master Allen entitles him to the greatest respect from all. The police are on track of the stolen property, we understand, with hopes of recovering it. We trust that the thief may be caught and punished.

Burial of Chas. H. Wilson.

UPPER ASTORIA, March 17, 1879.

EDITOR ASTORIAN :- The fact that a per-son walking in the ordinary path of civil life dies and is buried ought not to create any cient to cause a lengthy piece for the news-paper to be written : but we think some cir-cumstances caused with this buried each paper to be written : but we think some cir-cumstances connected with this burial ought to come before the people, showing them the reason why a "dead man" is buried, as there was some insinuations in regard to the pro-priety of the burial taking place on the Sab-bath, made by the Rev. Parker. Hence, Mr. Editor, the friends of the deceased ask you to publish the following historical statement of the burial and circumstances therewith connected :

of the burial and circumstances therewith connected : Mr. Chas. H. Wilson, of upper Astoria, af-ter a confinement to his bed of 9 months, suffering from consumption, expired on the 15th inst., at 7:45 p. M. in the presence of many friends and the attending doctor, who was consulted as to the propriety of the time of burial, and answered : "The sooner the better." On the morning of the 16th inst... (Soudary) friends of the deceased (he had no better." On the morning of the 16th inst., (Sunday), friends of the deceased (he had no near relatives here), repaired to Rev. Parker, pastor of the Chapel of Holy Innocents, who had previously announced that he was pre-pared to sell lots for burial purposes and had sold lots, asking him the privilege of ourying and his services at the grave at 4 o'clock P. M., which respectfully was refused. Gen. Adair, who has kindly donated to the church the spot or inclosure of ground, used as a burying ground, granted the permission of "burial there," which seemingly disqualified the pastor of his authority, and raised his spirit to a "high pitch," calling forth from him the following language under the servi-ces in church.

him the following language under the servi-ces in churcl.: A couple of men called on me this fore-noon, asking my service at the burial of the body of a man who had been deag 12 hours, but I refused as it was Sabbath, and neither the dead man, nor the men calling have ever darkened the church door. But have ever darkened the church door. But judging from the crowd standing on the cor-ners I guess they have stole a march on me; but hereafter the body of no man will be permitted to be buried in this ground and those already resting here are permitted to do so merely for the sake of accommodation. To mereny they could have buried here but To-morrow they could have buried here but not on the Sabhath.

We leave it to the candid public to judge the action of the pastor in the matter. It will be observed that Mr. Wilson had been dead 20% hours when the time for burial was set, consequently more than "12" and the set, consequently more than "12" and the doctor pronouncing it necessary for sanitary purposes to bury as soon as possible; his friends could find no reason to delay the solemn and sacred act, notwithstanding the preachers remarks. The Rev, Mr, J. T. Wolfe willingly officiated at the grave and by the permission and kindness of Gen. Adair, Jr., the remains of Chas. H. Wilson were per-mitted to rest in peace where the large erowd Jr., the remains of Chas. II. Wilson were per-mitted to rest in peace where the large crowd of friends chose to deposit them. We take this opportunity of thanking all those who sympathized with him in his sickness, who lent him a helping hand and encouraged him by words and deeds of any kind, particu-harly those who showed him the last painful respect in following him to the place from "whence no traveler ever returned." The leav Mr. Farker we foreview in what we think Rev. Mr. Farker we forgive in what we think he is erring and wish that he may practice his teachings. In saying good by to the many friends of Chas. Wilson, for him, we MANY FRIENDS.
